5,000 Teachers Will Convene Here Friday

Appleton Schools Host to 68th NWEA Sessions

More than 5,000 grade and high school teachers will visit Appleton Friday for the 68th annual convention of the Northeastern Wisconsin Education association.

Teachers will meet in three general sessions Friday morning. They will be held at Appleton High school auditorium and gymnasium and the Rio theater.

Speakers will be Howard Whitman, lecturer and television commentator talking on "Education's Need for Four New Freedoms," Henry C. Wolfe, authority on world affairs, speaking on "What's Happening in World Affairs," and Sydney J. Harris, columnist and drama critic for the Chicago Daily News, who will discuss "What is School For?"

Each speaker will deliver his talk twice in different auditoriums.

Morning sessions will begin at 9 a.m. Werner A. Witte, assistant principal at Appleton High school and president of the association, will preside at the auditorium.

Funeral services for the Wagner child were held Wednesday. His body was found in a ditch in front of a country estate at nearby Grafton early Sunday morning.

Police records also show. Woelfel said, that Lee once lived at Cedarburg, a Milwaukee suburb only a few miles from Grafton.

Woelfel said detectives came across Lee in a routine check of the sex deviate files. Woelfel also said Lee's wife lived within a few blocks of Ben's home before recently moving to Chicago.

He said a check with the state motor vehicle department showed the blue and white automobile listed in Lee's name.

West May Offer Reds Guarantees Against Aggression

Ready to Meet Russian Objection on Unity Issue

Washington —P— Officials said today the United States and its western allies are prepared to give Russia strong security guarantees against a revival of aggressive German militarism if that should be part of Russia's price for an agreement on the unification of East and West Germany.

These authorities denied reports—given newsmen by diplomatic informants in London yesterday—that a new U. S. plan for a far-flung east-west security system has been circulated among the western powers.

Apparently there has been talk of such arrangement in the western discussions about proposals which may be made to Russia at the foreign ministers meeting at Geneva beginning May 11.

Treaty Discussed State department informants intimated that development of an east-west treaty system would not necessarily be part of a package proposal calling for the unification of Germany by stages. The treaty could be advanced later to meet Soviet objections about possible growth of some new militarism in a reunited Germany.

Over the years discussion of a security treaty has taken a wide variety of forms. Regardless of how many nations might join it, the essential provision would be that the United States, Britain and France would pledge to fight alongside Russia against any

SEATO Points To Peace Aims

Also Stresses Need for Solving Economic Problems

Wellington, New Zealand —P— New Zealand Prime Minister Walter Nash today said the eight foreign ministers of the SEATO council have united once more in dedication to peace.

"Not one of these countries wants war," said Nash. "They all want peace—provided it is a permanent peace and not a peace in which their minds are turned so that in time they come to think of the lion as a beautiful big pussy cat."

Nash spoke at a government luncheon on the second day of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization's fifth annual ministerial meeting. The New Zealand government chief is presiding at the meeting, which ends tomorrow.

Underlying the growing concern of SEATO members with economic problems, Nash said the organization is a military alliance, "but it has other objectives."

"All of its countries want to find a way of removing the greater menaces of hunger and poverty. They are the two greatest menaces history has ever known," he declared.

Brazil Probes Activities of Red Agitators

Increasing Unrest Seems to Indicate Soviet Master Plan

Rio de Janeiro —P— Brazil has joined the parade of Latin-American countries investigating communist agitators suspected of getting orders direct from Moscow.

Growing industrial unrest in Brazil seems to fall into a pattern giving indications of a red master plan to capitalize on the economic difficulties confronting most South American countries.

Col. Danilo Nunes, Brazil's chief of political police, yesterday blamed the reds for a series of strikes that have plagued the nation at the rate of one a day during the past month.

Part of Plan? The trouble has centered in the drought-stricken northeastern states of Bahia and Pernambuco with short-lived walkouts by transport workers — truckers, busmen and railwaymen — and dockers.

Nunes said he was convinced the lightning strikes were part of a general communist $32 million price tag. He hopes plan for stirring up unrest to pay almost half the bill with throughout the country. He said his operatives are making a detailed investigation.

Other Alternative Is End of Building Program, Governor Tells Legislature

Madison—Gov. Gaylord Nelson today asked Wisconsin legislators to pass his state income tax withholding plan or a "one-time benefit resulting from the speedup in collections."

He described the feature as a "one-time benefit resulting from the speedup in collections."

It is simply the overlap arising from the institution of a more current tax collecting system while the old system is still in force.

"The machinery of government cannot be stopped while a change in the tax collecting method is introduced, and this limitation has led to charges that I have proposed a 'pay-double-as-you-go' system."

Nelson said the charge was unfounded and injected a bread-and-butter analogy in support of his argument.

"If you paid last month's grocery bill today, and then paid for groceries in cash for the rest of this month, would

Armed Kurds Given Visas

Cairo Radio Says Iraq Admitting Men From Soviet Union

Cairo —P—Cairo radio says Iraq has granted entry visas to 2,000 Kurd tribesmen from the Soviet Union in addition to 855 who reportedly passed through the Suez canal Monday on the Russia liner Grun-zian. The broadcast gave no source of the information. There was no confirmation available. The reported movement of Kurds from the Soviet Union has aroused fear that the communist ranks in Baghdad are being strengthened.

Canal Used Baghdad radio acknowledged that a Soviet vessel is scheduled to land a boatload of Kurds in the Iraqi port of Basra within 9 or 10 days. But it said these were reparations who fled to the Soviet Union years ago and included 460 men, 108 women and 252 children.

Egyptian officials had reported when the Russian ship passed through the Suez canal over the weekend that 855 Kurdish men trained in guerrilla warfare were aboard, along with arms for them.

Sources close to government of the United Arab Republic said it would not take any action on transfer of the Soviet Kurds to Iraq until they actually were on Iraqi territory.

Frank Lloyd Wright, Famous Architect, Dies at 89 in Arizona

Phoenix, Ariz. —P— Frank Lloyd Wright, 89, colorful and controversial genius of design, died at 4:45 a. m. today in a Phoenix hospital after a brief illness.

A giant on the national and international architectural scene, Wright underwent an operation Monday for removal of an intestinal obstruction. He had been stricken Saturday at his winter home near Scottsdale.

Born At Richland Center Only an hour before his death, Wright's condition was reported as unchanged.

Wright was almost as noted for his pithy comments as for his unusual buildings.

"Early in life I had to choose between honest arrogance and hypocritical humility," he said at the age of 87. "I chose honest arrogance and have seen no occasion to change."

Born June 8, 1869, in Richland Center, Wis., Wright designed more than 700 buildings around the world to leave a lasting imprint on the building of today.

The most famous included the Imperial hotel in Tokyo, the Guggenheim museum in

New York and Price tower in Bartlesville, Okla.

In 1948 the American Institute of Architects named him the fifteenth winner in 42 years of its gold medal "for distinguished service to the advancement of the art and the profession of architecture."

But there was no love lost between Wright and members of the institute. Some of his sharpest barbs were reserved for his fellow architects.

He once described the institute as "the American Institute of Appearances" and on another occasion declared, "the only thing wrong with architecture is architects."

Architects were not the only objects of his wrath. He didn't like cities. He called them "vampires living on the fresh blood of the countryside and villages, sterilizing humanity." Urban apartment developments were "nothing but sanitary slums."

He called the design of the Gary, Ind. —P— Two little boys crawled into an unused refrigerator on the back porch of their home and suffocated yesterday.

Gale Holbrook, 5, and his brother, Jay, 3, were found when their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Holbrook, and friends turned back to the house after a frantic search of the neighborhood. A deputy coroner said they had been dead about four hours.

The refrigerator had been stored on the back porch of the Holbrooks' home in suburban Black Oak. Mrs. Holbrook said the boys wandered out of her sight and must have climbed into the refrigerator, after which the door slammed shut.

Red Panchen Lama Leaves for Peiping

Think Chinese Communists Want Puppet Leader Out of Way While Troops Consolidate Positions

Tokyo—The Peiping radio reported that the Panchen Lama, communist China's new puppet leader of Tibet, left his capital of Lhasa for Peiping today.

Earlier Peiping broadcasts had said the new ruler, who moved into Lhasa only last Sunday, would attend the national people's congress opening next week.

But his abrupt departure was taken to mean that red China wants to consolidate its military position in Tibet without having to consult the 21-year-old Panchen Lama the reds installed as secular and spiritual leader in place of the fugitive Dalai Lama.

Peiping's Chinese-language announcement of the departure gave no details on the Panchen Lama's itinerary.

Revolt Spreads

Reports filtering out of Tibet said the revolt against Chinese rule is spreading despite Peiping's attempts to crush it by bringing in reinforcements from China proper.

The Times of India, in a report from the border point of Kalimpong, said the Chinese communists are expected to launch an offensive soon to attempt to halt the spread of resistance.

Another Times dispatch from the border kingdom of Sikkim said the Khampa tribesmen, spearhead of the revolt, were running short of supplies and were trying to get arms.

A Tibetan in Gangtok, Sikkim's capital, told a Times correspondent he would like to establish contacts with Pakistan for arms to be supplied through Pakistani-held northern Kashmir. This would avoid Indian territory.

The New Delhi Statesman said communist Chinese forces are fanning out over western Tibet to block all escape routes into India and Nepal.

Reports in Chinese Nationalist Formosa said the most severe fighting is southeast of Lhasa, where the Khampa warriors have their mountain strongholds.

Information purportedly filtering to high Nationalist sources from Tibet said most of the Lamas, the priests of Tibet, have joined the rebels.

About 30,000 Chinese reinforcements sent to Tibet are Korean war veterans better able to stand the rigors of the cold Tibetan climate than troops from other Chinese areas, the reports added.

Report German Leader Fears British Policy

Diplomats Claim Concern Caused by Illness of Dulles

Bonn, Germany—Diplomatic experts today attributed West German Chancellor Adenauer's extreme concern over British policy on Germany to the fact that he no longer has Sec. of State Dulles to stand up with him.

One high ranking diplomat put it this way:

"It must have seemed a cruel blow to Adenauer that Dulles became ill at just about the same time Macmillan was plunging ahead on his trip to Moscow."

Adenauer in a broadcast last night explained his decision to give up the chancellor's post in the fall if elected president of West Germany. But he devoted much of his broadcast to the British-German rift.

"Pure Fantasy"

He said British press reports of bad relations between himself and Prime Minister Macmillan were "pure fantasy." But he derided Macmillan's idea for negotiations on a reduction of forces in central Europe as being so imprecise they cannot be discussed coherently.

The Macmillan proposal, a 4-year-old idea first broached by Sir Anthony Eden as a start toward disarmament, and talk that the British favor a conference of West and East Germany have fanned the suspicions that Adenauer and his lieutenants long have held of British diplomacy.

Free Elections

At the same time the chancellor and his aides have professedly trusted that Dulles would keep the western alliance firmly tied to a policy of reunification of Germany only through free elections, which the west presumably would win—and firmly opposed to any western recognition of the communist East German regime as a legitimate government.

Informants suggested that Macmillan's trip to Moscow, just as Dulles was knocked out by illness, raised Adenauer's fears that someone else whose views he didn't share might take Dulles' place as leader of the western alliance.

Examinations Show 21 Doctors With Illness

Cases Turn Up During Free Checkup Held at Convention of Medical Group

BY LEIF ERICKSON

San Francisco—Twenty-one cases of serious or potentially serious illness have been uncovered among the first 350 doctors to submit casually to free physical examinations while attending the American Academy of General Practice convention here.

These findings were made by a group of physicians and technicians in the first large-scale undertaking of that nature by the academy.

The convention and the project have one more day to go, so the final figures on undetected ailments among the doctors will be somewhat higher.

Quick Checkup

In about 40 minutes, the doctors get a thorough - going checkup that would take three to four days to complete for a patient in ordinary practice.

And the ordinary patient would have to pay about $75 for the job. It's free to the doctors.

The physical examination center is manned by a volunteer staff of 140 nurses and technicians. Ten to 15 examining doctors from a volunteer staff of 70 are on duty.

A $40,000 layout of the latest in laboratory and testing equipment, including electronic blood counters and on the spot X-ray reading, makes possible the immediate reporting of findings. Twelve electrocardiographs are used for heart studies, and a cardiologist analyzes their records.

Dr. John D. Humber of San Francisco's Southern Pacific hospital is the center's director.

Vatican Gives Shooting Case to Italian Police

Vatican City—The Vatican today turned over to Italian authorities the case of the dismissed papal guard who yesterday shot the commander of the little corps which guards the life of the pope.

Italian police probably will escort the former guard to the frontier and turn him over to the Swiss to take whatever action they deem appropriate.

The Vatican, after preliminary investigation, turned its findings over to Italy under provision of the lateran pact, which specifies that the tiny church state can turn over to Italian authorities any cases of law violation which may occur in its territory. It was also noted that the former guard who fired the shots came into Vatican territory from Rome, where he had been staying since his dismissal.

The 48-year-old guard commander, Swiss Col. Robert Nunlist, was wounded twice while struggling with ex-guardsmen Adolf Rucker, 34. Taken to a Rome hospital for removal of a bullet from his back, Nunlist was reported out of danger today.

Asks Commission To Deny Request Of Cheese Group

Washington—Rep. John W. Byrnes, Green Bay Republican, today asked the U. S. tariff commission to deny a request of the Cheese Importers' association to investigate or revise present quotas on cheese imports.

In a letter to Chairman Edgar B. Brossard of the tariff commission, Byrnes reminded him that "these requests follow closely upon a similar request to the president for action under section 22 of the Agricultural Adjustment act" which request was subsequently denied by the president through the secretary of agriculture.

"In spite of this fact, the importers now ask the commission to do what the president, through the secretary of agriculture, has declined to do, first in respect to cheese quotas in general and second in respect to edam and Gouda cheeses," Byrnes told the tariff commission chairman.

He added that he hoped "the commission will not lend itself to this obvious attempt by the importers to use it to try to force the president to reconsider a decision already made."

Longshoremen Deliver Criticism of U. S. Position on Berlin

Seattle—A resolution criticizing the United States stand on Berlin and Germany was passed unanimously yesterday by delegates to the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's union convention.

The resolution was approved after Harry Bridges, ILWU president, told delegates that the press is "putting out phony information and lies" about the Berlin situation.

"Russia is willing to pull out, Bridges said. "They want to give Germany back to the Germans."

The convention also passed unanimously a resolution favoring trade with communist China.

UCLA Seeking Truman As Guest Lecturer

Los Angeles—UCLA is making arrangements with former President Harry S. Truman to be a guest lecturer at the university.

Chancellor Raymond Allen said yesterday, after Truman had addressed the students, that he hoped the former chief executive would spend a month or two at UCLA in the near future.

Truman spoke for 40 minutes yesterday, tracing the history of witch hunting and hysteria in America since pre-revolutionary days.

"You know what witch hunting is," he told the students. "You had quite a time with it. You had a white back. You didn't have it coming, either." He referred to a loyalty oath controversy among the university professors.

Sees Need for Chain Of Evangelical Units To Fight 'Unbelief'

Los Angeles—A chain of accredited Evangelical institutions from coast to coast is needed to challenge the citadels of modern unbelief, says Dr. Carl F. H. Henry of Washington, D. C.

He told the National Association of Evangelicals yesterday that institutions originally founded for training of a competent evangelical ministry, such as Harvard and Columbia, have been so transformed that evangelism finds itself among enemies on the great campuses of America.

One can well understand, even if he cannot justify, the misgivings about higher education that crowd many of our devout evangelical homes," Dr. Henry said.

He is editor of "Christianity Today," and formerly was a faculty member of Fuller Theological seminary, Pasadena, Calif.

Russian Seaman Object of American Mission of Mercy

Kodiak, Alaska—A 4-day mission of mercy to save the life of an obscure Russian fisherman was rapidly nearing completion today.

Evgenij Ivanovich Gneushev, partially paralyzed five days ago when he tumbled into the hold of a Russian fishing vessel on the Bering sea, was unconscious and unaware of the major role he was playing.

The 23-year-old Soviet fisherman was aboard the U. S. coast guard cutter on route to Cold Bay, Alaska, at the tip of the Alaska peninsula.

The Storis was expected to arrive at Cold Bay and Gneushev will be transferred to a coast guard plane for a 65-mile flight to Anchorage and hospitalization.

A navy doctor who examined Gneushev said the young Russian had felled himself by paralysis of the right arm and both legs, caused by a brain injury suffered in the fall.

Gneushev injured five days ago, was transferred yesterday from the Soviet trawler Pischavaya Industriya to the Storis at sheltered Akun bay in the Aleutian islands.

The Storis and the Soviet trawler met at Akun bay at midday yesterday but the transfer of the Russian from the Soviet boat to the coast guard cutter was delayed some four hours by bad weather.

Air Force academy at Colorado Springs, Colo., "half baked." Government buildings in Washington he termed "stone quarries erected to satisfy a grandomania as insatiable as it is insignificant."

Hot Consistent He was not always consistent. At an early stage in his career he declared war on skyscrapers.

"If you stop and think about them, you ask why so unethical an act can be allowed to exist. They are Molochs raised for the commercial exploitation of the man in the street."

But in August of 1956, Wright proposed a 510-story, mile-high skyscraper on the Chicago lake front.

He established the Frank Lloyd Wright Foundation to instruct young architectural followers. In the summer the disciples studied at Taliesin east at Spring Green, Wis. In the winter they moved with Wright to Taliesin west near Phoenix. Taliesin is a Welch word meaning "shining brow."

He called for architecture to be functional and what he termed organic.

"If we build in the desert, let the house know the desert and the desert be proud of the house by making the house an extension of the desert," he once said.

Married 3 Times Wright was married three times. His first marriage was to Catherine Tobin. Six children were born to the union before it ended in divorce. He then married Miriam Noel, a mature woman with three grown children. After their divorce he married Olga Lazovich. They had one daughter.

If Wright had a major impact on architecture, his craft had deep meaning for him. "You can listen to music and understand it," he said. "You can look at a painting and understand it. But a building is there as an experience. You have to live in it to understand it."

Five years ago Wright threatened to leave Wisconsin in an expression of his disgust with a state supreme court decision that involved his architectural efforts.

The court held that Wright's studio home in his native state was not an educational institution, as Wright claimed, and therefore was not tax exempt. After the court's action, Wright declared:

"Sincerest appeal for justice to the highest tribunal of my state has met with only misunderstanding and gross misjudgment. I have no desire to spend the rest of my days there in ambiguous circumstances. Taliesin, Wis., is for sale. The work we have been doing there for 23 years will continue in Arizona and New York."

Senator Claims Trading Stamps Morally Wrong

Madison —P— The use of trading stamps was labeled "morally wrong" by a Democratic senator Wednesday.

Sen. Howard Cameron, D-Rice Lake, author of a bill that would outlaw trading stamps in Wisconsin, told the senate judiciary committee the consumer is "being taken" by retailers who contend that the stamps represent a discount for cash purchases. He added:

"If I'm entitled to a cash discount, then I'm entitled to it in cash."

However, backers of the use of the stamps countered by saying the practice is a stimulus to business, industry and employment.

The owner of a Beloit oil firm, Cy Finnegan, said trading stamps have boosted his business "almost 100 per cent in two years." Sen. Alfred Laun R-Kiel, said passage of the bill could lead to a transfer of some state industrial and an increase in unemployment.

Plans Completed for Ultra-Short-Wave Asian Radio Network

Karachi, Pakistan —P— Plans have been completed for the world's longest ultra-short wave radio networks linking three Asian capitals of the Baghdad alliance.

The 3,000-mile communications chain will connect Karachi, Tehran and Ankara. The U.S. government will pay the bill—$18,370,000.

A working party of representatives from Iran, Pakistan, Turkey, Britain and the United States, meeting here yesterday, fixed 1961 as target date for completion of the project.

Five engineers from each of the three Asian nations will attend a 3-month course in the United States to learn the system involved in the project.

Withholding Plan or Tax Hike, Nelson Says

you be paying double for the food you eat this month?" he asked.

The governor tabbed suggestions that taxpayers be relieved of the windfall cost through introduction of a forgiveness or refund clause "the kind of something-for-nothing offer that typifies the worst political opportunism."

"Plainly and simply," he said, "the pay-as-you-go proposal is sound tax administration. Sooner or later it will become a part of our collection system."

"The real question before us is whether we should adopt it now or whether we should postpone the decision. I think there are compelling reasons why we should act positively this season."

Catch Delinquents Nelson repeated most of the arguments he has used in statements that withholding will improve collections by getting rid of delinquencies and exposing tax cheats.

He said the plan will increase revenues at least $3,000,000 a year, which he said is a tax department estimate and probably too conservative. But he made no mention of higher administrative costs.

"Perhaps the most compelling argument in favor of withholding is that it assures equal treatment for all taxpayers, it guarantees that those who pay their fair share of the taxes will not be burdened by those who avoid their tax obligations."

gation. Before we take any steps to increase rates on or adopt new taxes, we have a moral obligation to the conscientious taxpayer to improve compliance with the current tax laws," he said.

Has Enough Men It was the first time that a state executive had publicly expressed doubt about the integrity of the present state collection system.

Tax Commissioner Harry Harder has declared publicly that the legislature has granted him all the auditors and enforcement agents he can use efficiently.

It was Nelson's fourth personal appearance before the legislature in less than three months in his office, and he declared today that he intends to appear again whenever he has something of importance to tell the legislative branch. Most other governors sent

Deny Ike Will Visit Dulles

Jupiter Island, Fla.—P—An aide of John Foster Dulles says he knows of no plans for President Eisenhower to visit the ailing secretary of state at this seaside resort. Joseph N. Greene, asked yesterday about reports of such a visit, said there were no indications that the president, now vacationing at Augusta, Ga., will come to Florida. Meanwhile, Dulles planned another day of rest and relaxation at the home of Undersecretary C. Douglas Dillon, where he is recuperating from

Another Split Decision

The United States Supreme Court has, by 5-4 and 6-3 votes, upheld the principle of double jeopardy as long as the courts involved are not both in the federal system. This decision is not something startlingly new; in somewhat similar cases the court has made the same decision several times in the past. But the split on the court again reveals the considerable difference in legal philosophies.

In the two recent cases, one involved a man who first was acquitted by a federal court, then charged in a state court for the same offense and convicted. In the other case a state court had convicted two men for an offense and they had served their time. Upon release they were charged for the same offense in a federal court and again convicted, this time with heavier sentences.

The difference in the majority and minority decisions rests upon what each justice feels to be "fundamental principles of justice so rooted in the traditions and consciences of our people." Obviously the Fifth amendment specifically forbids double jeopardy in a federal court — "nor shall any person be subject for the same offense to be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb." The problem is whether or not the Fourteenth amendment, which says "nor shall any state deprive any person of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law," extends the protection of the Fifth amendment to offenses which come under the jurisdiction of state courts or, as in these two cases, offenses which are crimes in both federal and state courts.

The majority decision, written by Justice Felix Frankfurter, rests heavily upon a decision in Palko vs. Connecticut in which a state law permitting a request for review in another court was found constitutional because the justices didn't feel that the guarantee against double jeopardy was a fundamental principle of law. Justice Frankfurter then goes on, as he has in many cases in the last 15 years, to expound upon the value of our federal system with certain areas carefully restricted to the states. "Were the federal prosecution of a comparatively minor offense to prevent state prosecution of so grave an infraction of state law, the result would be a shocking and untoward deprivation of the historic right and obligation of the states to maintain peace and order within their confines."

Justice William Brennan, although voting with the minority in one case because he felt that the involvement of the federal authorities in the prosecution of the state case actually made the federal government an interested party and therefore there was a violation of the Fifth amendment, argued that lack of authority to prosecute by the federal government after a state trial would seriously hamper the federal government. Neither justice seemed concerned with the original reason for the Fifth amendment protection which was to protect the individual from an arrogant government.

But Justice Hugo Black, in dissenting vigorously, seemed to get at the bottom of the whole matter. "The court apparently takes the position that a second trial for the same act is somehow less offensive if one of the trials is conducted by the federal government and the other by a state. . . . If double punishment is what is feared, it hurts no less for two 'sovereigns' to inflict it than for one. If danger to the innocent is emphasized, that danger is surely no less when the power of state and federal governments is brought to bear on one man in two trials, than when one of these 'sovereigns' proceeds alone. In each case, inescapably, a man is forced to face danger twice for the same conduct."

The Fourteenth amendment has generally been construed by the supreme court to extend the principles of the First amendment to the states. But it is a little hard to understand why certain sections of the Bill of Rights can be so considered today. The writers of the first ten amendments obviously must have considered all the matters involved as fundamental to justice and liberty and it can certainly be as well argued that the protection of trial by jury, for instance, is as essential to justice as is freedom of speech or religion.

Justice Black has the last and very telling word no matter what the majority decision of the court. "Our federal union was conceived and created 'to establish justice' and 'to secure the blessings of liberty,' not to destroy any of the bulwarks on which both freedom and justice depend. We should be suspicious of any 'requirements' of 'federalism' which result in obliterating ancient safeguards. I have been shown nothing . . . to indicate that individual rights deemed essential by both state and nation were to be lost through the combined operations of the two governments."

Justice William Brennan, although voting with the minority in one case because he felt that the involvement of the federal authorities in the prosecution of the state case actually made the federal government an interested party and therefore there was a violation of the Fifth amendment, argued that lack of authority to prosecute by the federal government after a state trial would seriously hamper the federal government. Neither justice seemed concerned with the original reason for the Fifth amendment protection which was to protect the individual from an arrogant government.

But Justice Hugo Black, in dissenting vigorously, seemed to get at the bottom of the whole matter. "The court apparently takes the position that a second trial for the same act is somehow less offensive if one of the trials is conducted by the federal government and the other by a state. . . . If double punishment is what is feared, it hurts no less for two 'sovereigns' to inflict it than for one. If danger to the innocent is emphasized, that danger is surely no less when the power of state and federal governments is brought to bear on one man in two trials, than when one of these 'sovereigns' proceeds alone. In each case, inescapably, a man is forced to face danger twice for the same conduct."

The Fourteenth amendment has generally been construed by the supreme court to extend the principles of the First amendment to the states. But it is a little hard to understand why certain sections of the Bill of Rights can be so considered today. The writers of the first ten amendments obviously must have considered all the matters involved as fundamental to justice and liberty and it can certainly be as well argued that the protection of trial by jury, for instance, is as essential to justice as is freedom of speech or religion.

Justice Black has the last and very telling word no matter what the majority decision of the court. "Our federal union was conceived and created 'to establish justice' and 'to secure the blessings of liberty,' not to destroy any of the bulwarks on which both freedom and justice depend. We should be suspicious of any 'requirements' of 'federalism' which result in obliterating ancient safeguards. I have been shown nothing . . . to indicate that individual rights deemed essential by both state and nation were to be lost through the combined operations of the two governments."

Did Mikoyan Sound American Temper?

Former President Hoover suspects that Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan was more concerned during his recent visit to the United States with the American people's sentiment toward the cold war than he was with his announced purpose of trying to increase trade.

Mr. Hoover, in a radio broadcast, expressed the conviction that the American people are "united in their feelings that the time has come for a determined stand" and rejoiced in the thought that President Eisenhower is certain of such support in the coming negotiations with the Russians.

If, as Mr. Hoover says, Mikoyan "wanted to discover if our people were united behind the president, and determined to insist upon certain principles in our foreign relations," then Mikoyan's report to Nikita Khrushchev probably had a great deal to do with the latter's consent to the meeting of foreign ministers at Geneva.

Mikoyan found out that the American people and the western world have a great

Wisconsin Newspapers Comment On Income Tax Withholding

From The Clintonville Tribune-Gazette

Regardless of the state's political complexion at the moment or whether we can agree with him on other matters, we must object in principle to Gov. Nelson's much-wanted withholding tax on state incomes.

The chief argument, despite all pooh-poohing from Milwaukee, remains in the degenerative effects of withheld taxes on the morality of the taxpaying public.

If you don't feel taxes, you aren't paying them. At least, that's the theory of the "soak the rich" tax proponents.

But we do feel the state taxes! True, they don't come from anywhere near everyone. Nevertheless they come from those who must pay the salaries of those who don't have to pay state income taxes. They certainly affect every person.

There would be no limit to the taxes collected if no one felt the burden of taxes.

From The Madison Times

It's a nice deal if the Democrats can get away with it, for it will cover up their inability to handle the job of running the state government at the expense of Wisconsin taxpayers. But it is also possible that Wisconsin citizens will raise such a fuss over this betrayal that Nelson and his inexperienced staff will have to find other methods.

Here is the point in legislative and political affairs where John O. Public takes a hand. Here is where the average citizen takes a pen in hand and writes his Legislator and tells him in no uncertain terms what he feels about such shenanigans.

The alternative is not telling our assemblyman and senator to be saddled with a state withholding tax for all time to come.

From The Wausau Freeman

What makes the plan so politically lethal are the millions the governor hopes to snag for the state and its municipalities by refusing to forgive the unpaid portions of income taxes while insisting at the same time that taxes must be put on a pay-as-you-go basis. If the going gets rough, the legislature can work out a compromise whereby a straight pay-as-you-go system is put into effect, without the multi-million tax grab.

It is inaccurately being described as a windfall, since a windfall is an unexpected legacy or other gain that comes with no price-tag attached. That is not the case with Nelson's withholding plan.

From The Janesville Gazette

The principal reason for seeming acceptance of the governor's plan by many workers is perhaps twofold: 1) Many wage earners who will be victims of the tax deduction were political supporters of Gov. Nelson last fall, and feel now that they must remain quiet on one of his pet schemes; and 2) they do not seriously expect a drop in take-home pay.

It now appears that there is expectation for wage increases sufficient to hold take-home pay at present levels, paying state taxes out of increased earnings. Those who hold to this belief are treading on uncertain ground and many if not all seem doomed to disappointment.

Whatever the answer, the taxpayer cannot win. Either he must see the extra money deducted from his paycheck, or will see taxes added onto the high prices he already pays for goods. There is no chance that business can or will attempt to cover new state tax charges against individuals.

If the plan goes through, the wage earner is going to be the one to suffer.

From The Nefford Star News

State withholding of income tax would appear to lighten the burden of the wage earner, but it would bring about a reverse situation. It is merely setting the pace for boosting income tax in a way that is just short of sneaky.

The wage earner, exponents of withholding state pally, does not feel the tax when it is spread out into 12, 24 or 32 deductions. Don't think he wouldn't feel it just as he does now. The one certain aspect about it, however, is the fact that Wisconsinites who make out their state income tax forms, will be more alert to any increase and do his best to fight it if he sees the lump deduction.

Another bad feature is the cost of increased record keeping to industry and business. That cost would, out of necessity, be taken from the cost of doing business and the employee and employer would be affected mutually.

To reiterate, the withholding plan is merely a foot in

Appleton Has Too Many Lawyers

79 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of April 10, 1880.

Appleton contains too many lawyers; so please stop writing to us to ascertain if this is a good place for lawyers.

Indeed, the supply is far above the demand and hence compels many of them to accept of other employment than in their pursuit. There are, of course, some who are doing a large business, but the generality are not, but are what are usually termed "the poor, unfortunate devils."

Now what is wanted is to limit the production and to pool their issues and the pathway of the real lawyers will be strewn again, as of yore, with real prosperity.

Establishment of the entire area of the towns of Maine and Bovina, a tract of more than 50,000 acres, as a game preserve where hunting only by a purchase of a ticket from the owner of the land, was assured by action of the voters of those two towns at Tuesday's election.

F. J. Leonard was elected president of the First Ward Civic League at a meeting of the new board of directors. He succeeded R. D. De Lard.

Outagamie county was included in one of the 26 Credit Production associations now operating in Wisconsin, according to W. F. Reck, farm credit association director, who visited Appleton that day.

Mrs. E. F. Moike was elected president of Appleton branch, American Association of University Women. Miss Anna Tarr was chosen vice president.

Organization of the Better Films Council of Appleton was to be attempted at a meeting of representatives of interested organizations at the Y. M. C. A., according to Fred Trezise.

Under the Capitol Dome
More Suggestions for Political Letter Writer

BY JOHN WINGAARD

Madison — The favorable response to a recent "how to" essay on testifying before legislative committees encourages the notion that further exposure of the political process for the distant citizen may be useful and illuminating.

The most frequent political act related to legislative activity, it may be guessed, is the dispatching of a letter by a constituent to his assemblyman, senator or representative in the Congress of the United States. Yet there are examples in each day's copious mail bags in the legislative postoffice at the capitol showing that effective communication with legislators is not always understood.

Herewith, then, are some suggested rules for the citizen who wants to offer his views to the man chosen to represent him in the business of making the laws.

Be original. However ordinary your style, however routine your purpose, your missive will be noted and remembered far longer if it is yours, rather than a copy of a model prepared by a press agent, a club secretary, or a trade association lobbyist.

Every politician worthy of the name knows how easy it is to collect signatures to petitions and to distribute form letters and post cards. The latter, so often used by cynical pressure groups, are very nearly useless for that reason.

Be polite. Don't start off with a reference to your representative as a jerk who ought to be recalled. Even if you are known to be a political opponent of the man representing your district, he is likely to regard carefully a thoughtful communication from you. There is always a next election and he is always hoping to get your backing.

Know what you're talking about. If you are discussing a particular bill, understand its contents. Such a demonstration of understanding shows the seriousness of your intent. Otherwise the legislator has a right to suspect that somebody put you up to the job and will discount your earnestness accordingly.

CAREFUL HERE

Don't write to Sen. Wiley in care of the state capitol, and don't write to your state senator about a matter that is pending in the house of representatives. Such care ought to be elementary, but it is astonishing how many persons have a murky recollection of the identity of their state and federal representatives, and confuse the functions of the two.

If you speak for others besides yourself, by all means mention the fact, but be careful about bluffing. Your representative is likely to be a pretty canny fellow, well acquainted in his district.

Make some allowance for the probability that your representative may not know much about the matter about which you write. There are many hundreds of bills. He doesn't read all of them, or understand all of them. Most of them he reads for the first time when they turn up on his house calendar and then he is guided, in the lack of other guidance, by the hearing committee report.

And now for a political secret that ought not to be a secret.

Your letter is likely to have far more influence upon how your representative votes, in hundreds of situations, than the arguments of all the lobbyists on the legislative sidelines. A half a dozen well prepared letters from earnest constituents can control the vote of half, at the least, of the members of each house on half, at the least, of all the thousands of measures brought into the legislative hopper biennially.

The letter to the legislator is therefore not only the most common political act of the individual citizen, but very nearly his most important act also.

Tournament More Than Just A Sports Item

From The St. Louis Post-Dispatch

When the finals of the Wisconsin state high school basketball tournament were played in Madison, a few unusual records were set.

The two finalists for the first time were both Milwaukee high schools, Lincoln and North, and almost next-door neighbors. Lincoln beat North, 65 to 56, after having lost to North in the regular season. More unusual, each team's 12-man tournament squad had only one white player.

But this game, in a very important sense, was much more than a demonstration of basketball skill. As the Milwaukee Journal said:

It was wonderful to see that here color was no consideration among teammates, between competing teams or in the wildly cheering stands. . . . The great championship game between the basketball teams of these two schools should emphasize how much has been achieved in and by them, and how much a little extra understanding and help is deserved.

How Can Young Doc Resist Our Charlie's Praise for Fremont?

BY CHARLES HOUSE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Fremont—Dear Doctor:
Well, I guess I can't call you "doctor" until you complete your internship at that big Milwaukee hospital July 1, but the people of this community are thinking of you now as their very own.

It may seem strange that I would write this kind of a letter to you—you know, real plain and straight—but I thought it might be a little helpful. Even though I haven't met you I know quite a bit about you:

Your name is Dr. John Haselow. You are 38 years old, married to a pretty lady and you have four children aged 5, 3, 2 and 2 months. You came from Neenah, attended medical school at Marquette university. You were an impressive student there, well liked.

Now that you are on the threshold of your medical career, you have been invited to come to Fremont. You haven't yet decided if you will do so, but may make up your mind in the coming week.

Now, Doc, maybe I have no business writing to you like this but, as I said, I'm doing it partly for you and partly for the people of Fremont who have not had a doctor of their own for about a year. They want one because there are no doctors in the immediate area. Thus, a good practice is almost assured.

Empty Office

The last doc in Fremont was Dr. Albert Gloss who apparently decided that Santa Anita, Calif., is a better place to live than Fremont. His office is still empty. His home, which I looked at, is available and is a very nice place. I am sure you and your family would like it if you decided to move here.

I know you like to hunt and fish well. Fremont is a dandy place for a fellow who likes such things.

The Wolf river which runs lazily through the center of the village is a wonderful river for fishing. Soon now, the pike are going to run and you will be surprised, Doc. There are some dandy 10-pounders looking for somebody's bait. They could quite made the complete transition from a lumbering, farming community to a modern place.

Old and New

You'll see some teetery old barns, Doc, and some sheds that go back into history, and you'll see that one fellow has a mink ranch right smack in the heart of the village. But the old sheds and half-forgotten barns just mark a period in the history of Fremont.

They won't be there much longer because they're tired and old, so in a way you are lucky to be able to see, in your lifetime, the complete turnover from the old ways to the new ones.

Myself, I kind of like things like that. It's a gentle introduction to yesterday, and to the people who have gone before and who built the village. Pioneers, Doc.

Outside of the village you'll find a few ancient log cabins still standing, with ancient mortar still clinging between the logs.

Small Town Wonders

One thing, though, Doc, you'll be able to walk through town and smell wonderful things like springtime — not smoke or gas fumes. The river, too, brings wonderful smells from elsewhere: Wild flowers, bursting buds, the promise of rain, a blooming alfalfa field far away. I think you'll like things like that, Doc. If you decide to come here, that is. A village-wide meeting is scheduled for April 16 so the folks can meet you and you can meet them. They hope you'll decide to live there.

A Fremont committee has been sort of looking for you, Doc, for quite a while. They've been happy to meet with you, and they liked you.

Villagers Hope

The committee members are Frank K. Smith, the village president; William Mathwig, Arnold Sader, and the Rev. Willard McKinnon, a Weyauwega priest who helped to find you. The committee, backed by the village, plans to help you in every possible way they can so that you'll be happy here.

I think your kids will like it. There's a dandy park of, perhaps, 10 acres, complete with woods, swings, slides and picnic spots. There's to be little league baseball; there's a wonderfully active Boy Scout troop; there's a good, safe, sand-filled beach maintained by the village for the whole community. Swimming lessons are given every summer by the Red Cross, and there's plenty of hiking areas, and lots of birds they'll never see in big cities like Milwaukee. The grade school has 135 kids and four teachers. The Union High school at Weyauwega is only a few miles away from Fremont.

Good, Real Folks

There are some nice ladies organizations for Mrs. Haselow, like the Women's Improvement club, though I con-less I do not know whether it is for the improvement of the village president. He came here 18 years ago from Ohio. Two possible, or the improvement of the community. But, Doc, the people are good, real folks. Just about everybody is happy to live here. Take Frank Smith, the village president and he has been reelected to that post in every ensuing election. He loves Fremont and is always bragging about it. I hope—if you come—you'll like it, too.

The standard of the world in Character

The moment a Cadillac comes into view it begins to say wonderful things about the man at the wheel. It tells of his fine taste . . . his good and practical judgment . . . his achievements in his chosen field. And the reasons for this are found in the character of the car itself. For longer than fifty years, goodness has been the watchword; craftsmanship the creed. In the lexicon of motordom — Cadillac is the world's best synonym for quality!

What Happens To Premiums? Board Asks

Park Workers' Life Policies Paid Since Nov. 1, Now Denied

The city council's refusal to add park board employees to the city's group life insurance plan has the park board wondering what will happen to monthly premiums paid since November.

Board members Wednesday agreed to ask Carl Sherry, agent for Equitable Life Assurance Society of New York, the insurance carrier, to meet with them May 13.

Sherry said he isn't sure whether the company will refund the money because the park board paid and the company accepted in good faith.

Would Hike Cost Councilmen March 18 approved addition of water department employees to the plan, but not park board workers because, it was said, the park board employees would raise the cost for each employee.

The original bid prices were for council employees only and amounted to $2.72 a month per employee, with state law limiting employee participation in the cost to 60 cents per month per $1,000 of coverage, or $1.20 a month. The council agreed to pay the rest.

Water Workers Cut Cost. Addition of water department employees cut the rate to $2.30 per employee per $2,000 coverage, but did not affect the employee share.

Addition of park board employees, effective Nov. 1, would have raised the rate to Another of the 5-year-olds, egged into an experiment, strolled to the post and pulled the lever.

Chief Neumann said he gave the youngster a lecture on the fact that money doesn't grow on trees or fire alarm boxes.

Board Willing To Permit LL At Linwood

But Wants League Officials to Clear With Grover, Tews

The park board is willing to permit the Little League to use Linwood park this summer, but league officials will have to clear with Ald. Alvin E. Tews and Recreation Director Elmer W. Grover first.

Frank C. Warner and Robert H. DeNoble, league officials, said they measured the Linwood diamond and no trees will have to be removed.

When they were told an outfield fence—probably a snow fence—might bring more objections, they said the fence wasn't necessary.

Fencing On Order. All that is needed, they said, is move the backstop behind home plate. Park Supt. Harold Jerke said a new type of wire mesh canopy will be installed and an 8-foot fence will be placed down both base lines.

The backstop and fencing were provided for in the 1959 budget and have been ordered.

The fencing and backstop might answer Ald. Tews' objections to use of the park, it was reported. Tews said the park is too small for league play, which may interfere with the recreation department playground program.

His principal objection, he said, is that foul balls may be hit into nearby residential property.

No Conflict. Warner said he checked with Grover, who sees no conflict with playground activities.

Board Sec. Arthur W. Jones said Warner and DeNoble could clear the path for approval by obtaining written statements from Tews and Grover.

A special program for parents is planned by the league on April 21, Warner said. Try-outs of boys are scheduled the first week of May. There also are plans for a minor league affiliate.

A change is necessary, Board Sec. Arthur W. Jones explained, because air pockets get in the 2-way pipes and cause the pipes to freeze in winter.

Apparent Low Bids On 2 School Jobs Under Estimate

Total $484,836 Without Alternate Items Included

Menasha — Seventy-five bids were received and opened Wednesday night by the board of education on two major school projects originally estimated to cost $630,000.

The project totals, which are considering no alternatives (some of which may be ordered by the board), are $414,492 for the new Sixth street elementary school and $70,344 for the Butte des Morts conversion. They total $484,836.

The board directed its architect, Edgar A. Stubenrauch and Associates, Inc., Sheboygan, to tabulate all bids and make recommendations.

All bid prices are firm for 30 days, so Stubenrauch's recommendations must be made long enough before that time to allow the board to act on accepting or rejecting bids.

Initial steps have been taken by city and town governments to issue $630,000 bonds for the two school jobs.

The original cost estimates called for erecting the new Sixth street school, to replace Butte des Morts as a grade school for $530,000, and converting the Butte des Morts building on Tayco street into a junior high, for $100,000.

Many Bid on Both Those prices include construction, plumbing, heating, electrical work and painting, as well as all equipment and lockers, according to John Fitzpatrick, chairman of the board of education's building committee.

Many contractors bid on both projects. Thirty submitted bids on the Butte des Morts job and 45 on the new building.

For the new elementary school, there were 12 general construction bids; 9 heating; 9 plumbing; 7 electrical; and 8 painting.

The breakdown on the Butte des Morts project is 7 general construction; 5 heating; 5 plumbing; 5 electrical; and 5 painting.

Pastor Tells Rotary Education, Motivation To Fight Teen Problem

Menasha — Part of the teenage problem is that young people need to be educated and motivated to enjoy other things than beer bars, vandalism and getting into trouble, Pastor Robert Jacobson observed.

Complicating solutions is the normal tendency of teenagers to resent authority. Disapproval of St. Timothy English Lutheran church, told the Rotarians of his experiences in handling teenage problems and offered a blueprint for solution.

He and the Rev. John Hanchett, pastor of the First Congregational church, have formed a committee to study teenage problems and offer solutions.

Four Needs In his talk, Pastor Jacobson saw four needs of all people, especially teenagers:

1. Recognition from others.
2. Affection and respect from others.
3. Feeling of security and "at-homeness" in their personal lives.
4. Experiences fresh, vital, and novel enough to keep them from becoming bored.

Expenses Up $88,000

Menasha Town Ends Year With $137,528

Menasha — The town of Menasha ended the fiscal year March 31 showing a cash balance of $137,528, about $11,300 less than the remainder last year.

Expenses, however, were up nearly $88,000 — to $578,041.

Among the expense items showing increases in the fiscal year over the previous period were:

Payments to the county treasurer, $222,571, up from $192,639.

Local school taxes, School District 1, $91,051, up from $73,267.

General fund disbursements, $26,352, up from $19,516.

Highway fund disbursements, $88,105, up from $60,114.

Snow fund payments, $3,018 up from $2,043.

Fire fund payments, $9,976, up from $7,410.

Income received during the year and cash on hand at the beginning of the last fiscal year totaled $715,570.

State income tax rebates helped offset the higher expenses for the town. Receipts from this source, second only to direct tax levies, were $203,231, compared to the $158,603 received the previous year.

Direct taxes also yielded more income to the town — $288,875, compared to $262,558.

Both assessed and equalized valuations show sharp jumps over the previous year.

39.6 Per Cent Voter Turnout in Menasha

Menasha — Turnout at the polls Tuesday in Menasha was 39.6 per cent of registered voters — 2,504 out of 6,311 eligible to vote.

City Clerk Ira H. Clough said the vote turnout was "poor," because of lack of contests and local interest.

Only three contests were on the city ballots — posts of two ward aldermen, who were defeated, and two board of education posts.

Claims for $5,000 from Mrs.

Firm Asks Oshkosh Council for Extra Fire Protection

Oshkosh — Kiekhaefer Aeromarine Motors, Inc., Wednesday night asked the Oshkosh council for a contractual fire protection arrangement with the city's fire department and through the town of Oshkosh.

City officials though asked company representatives if the firm would consider annexing to the city. The company had such a plan in 1953 and 1954 but it was rescinded when the company refused to be annexed to the city.

The company contended the city provides fire service to the county hospital and the state hospital and added the town of Oshkosh has only one fire truck and is not able to provide the fire protection the firm's plant, which is just over the city limits on Murdock street, needs.

Teacher Meeting

Menasha — Teachers at Trinity Lutheran church will attend a meeting Friday at Random Lake of the Northern Lutheran Teachers' conference of the Southern Wisconsin district.

Pastor Talks On Problems Of Teeners

on the tavern so its customers will not cause disturbance and damage in her neighborhood.

Teenagers, he said, need affection and respect from others, primarily from their own age groups, not so much from adults.

Not Only Finance — Providing security for teenagers in this "tension-packed age" is difficult, Pastor Jacobson commented. Security groups is not only wound up in finances. All a young person wants, he said, is enough money to have a good time and a few dates.

The years 13-17 "are the toughest. Then they are not quite adults and no longer children. Their folks are likely to think of their young as 'still a baby' but will ask them 'When are you going to grow up?'"

One means of providing this security feeling, he said, might be more concern for the family as a whole, not merely for the small children. "We need something more to cement family relationships," he said.

The need for excitement leads to destructiveness and disrespect for others' property, the pastor observed, citing several cases of extreme vandalism he has noticed at teenage dances.

Where to Go? — He asked the Rotarians: "How are we to guide the young people when they resist authority and guidance measures?" By helping them, we will help ourselves, and the best time to help them is in their formative years, before the teens, he said.

Where besides the beer bars will they go for entertainment? "That is a community problem," Pastor Jacobson said. Part of the solution is to get the young to enjoy other things. Another part is to provide them with other things to enjoy, he concluded.

The Rotarians also honored member Thomas D. Spalding, of the bank and vice chairman of its board of directors, who retired April 1 as president of First National bank, a banker 39 years.

Cronin Graduates
Gone are Jim Cronin, who graduated, and Bob Hodkiewicz, a senior and 3-year letterman, who is too old for competition by just three days.

The schedule will be completed at Friday's teacher's convention at Appleton.

Movie Producer Demands Realism

'Anatomy of a Murder' to Portray Faithfully Upper Michigan Locale

BY JANET SCRIVSETH
Post-Crescent News Service
Marquette, Mich.—If ever a movie is authentic in its locale, "Anatomy of a Murder" will be it.
Otto Preminger, who is making the film in Upper Michigan, has gone to such lengths in his passion for realism that the company on location here refers to the movie as "Operation Preminger."

As an experiment, he has set up a complete movie studio here. None of the movie will be filmed away from Upper Michigan. The picture even is being edited and put together in rooms at the Northland hotel here.
Making of the movie will take 10 or 11 weeks. The company now is in its third week at Marquette. The movie is scheduled for release in New York and Hollywood July 3.

At present the filming is being done in the Marquette county circuit courtroom, where the real case on which Robert Traver (Justice John Voelker) based his book was heard.
There will be about four weeks of work in all in the courtroom. Then the movie company will move to other Upper Michigan locations.

Other Locations
These will include a room at the Catholic hospital in Marquette, Big Bay lodge, a resort hotel, the Ishpeming railroad station, the office in the 80-year-old Voelker home in Ishpeming, a hot dog stand at Presque Isle park at Marquette, and a Michigamme street scene and beauty parlor.

Last of Series

The script calls for an amusement arcade. None was to be found so the producer is substituting a Michigamme billiard hall. The Presque Isle hot dog stand is a substitute for a beer garden.

Big Bay lodge has no bar, as called for in the script, so a bar some 500 yards away is being used.
"Anatomy of a Murder," being filmed in black and white on wide screen, will open with a camera shot from the top of a mining shaft at Ishpeming.

Outdoor scenes to represent summer are being delayed until the arrival of

Four Couples Divorced in Circuit Court

Mrs. Velma Novcaski, 1343 W. Brewster street, was divorced from Russell Novcaski, 32, of 320 N. Lawe street. Custody of a child was given both as trustees, and Novcaski was ordered to pay $20 weekly support. Mrs. Novcaski was granted the divorce on her cross complaint, her husband having first filed for divorce. The couple married Oct. 8, 1949, in Clintonville.
Mrs. Josephine Stock, 21, of 1413 W. Packard street, was divorced from John Stock, 24, Bismarckwood. Custody of one child was awarded Mrs. Stock, and Stock was ordered to pay $15 weekly support. The couple was married Oct. 25, 1950, in Appleton.
Mrs. Dorothy Gussert, 48, of 7204 E. Roosevelt street, was divorced from Leo N. Gussert, 52, address unknown. If the courtroom were a property division was needed for a real criminal, agreed upon. The couple was married June 9, 1951, in Minneapolis. The man is charged with

Leeman Pupils Have Perfect Attendance
Leeman — Miss Francis Gerber has reported that Eugene Zuleger, Kent Falk and Jean Carpenter have had perfect attendance records at Leeman school during the school year.
Perfect attendance for the last nine weeks was recorded by Barry Falk, Perry Pierre, Wayne Reese, Cheryl Brugger, Rita Greely and Gayle Greely.

built in 1843 by a famed fur trader, Hercules Dousman.
New this season is the Brishois house, a fine old residence which will open in conjunction with Villa Louis. One of the oldest stone homes in Wisconsin, it was the family residence of Michael Brishois, fur trader and general merchant, and one of Prairie du Chien's first permanent settlers. One of its unusual features is a sub-cellar, dug out beneath the regular basement, which Brishois used as a storage area for the beaver pelts and furs of his business.

Another Site
Less than 35 miles from Prairie du Chien the travelers will find another historic site in Nelson Dewey State park. The Stonefield Farm and Craft museum is a center of pioneer and agricultural history.

The museum is housed in a great stone barn and in addition to its displays of implements, coaches and tools, offers full-scale model shops of early craftsmen.
Tours of the Stonefield site include a visit to the red brick home of Nelson Dewey, Wisconsin's first governor. Picnic facilities are available on the bluffs which overlook this popular state park and museum in southwestern Wisconsin.
Old Wade House, a 19th century stagecoach inn, is located half-way between Fond du Lac and Sheboygan, at Greenbush.

Chamber Committee Favors Repeal Of Colored Oleo Ban in Wisconsin

Manufacture and sale of colored oleomargarine in Wisconsin, with some reservations, is favored by the Appleton Chamber of Commerce legislative committee.

Committeemen expressed favor in meetings at which they also favored nine other bills before the state legislature and opposed another nine.
They like repeal of the oleo ban because it would lift a burden from the oleo trade and general merchant, freedom to purchase products and they want without traveling to another state and would assure the state a share of oleo taxes now being circumvented.
They stipulate, however, they want the oleo container clearly marked and provisions for sale to include new labeling and sign display restrictions.

Others Approved
Other bills the committee favors provide for:
Revamping the conservation commission by setting up a conservation department, composed of the commission, the director and his staff, and by changing the method of appointment of commissioners to permit the governor to name six commissioners. Committeemen believe the bill would provide more commission stability and result in more qualified men serving.
Voluntary membership in the State Bar of Wisconsin for all lawyers.
Passage of the executive budget. Committeemen said a more equitable method of raising taxes must be found and contribute nothing to the or the state will decline in industrial growth.

Posting of traffic fines or bail money at the office of the sheriff, police, county patrol, clerk of court or justice court immediately after arrest without warrant.
Reorganization of courts, except the supreme court.
Committeemen believe the bill would more evenly distribute judges' work loads and would provide a more equitable basis for judges' salaries.
Establishing a state department of economic development. Committeemen believe the bill would eliminate duplication of governmental departments and prevent overlapping.

Trade Stamps
Permission for domestic life insurance companies to invest up to 5 per cent of admitted assets in common stock of United States and Canadian corporations, if approved by a public authority.
Participation by savings and loan companies, up to 50 per cent, in authorized mortgage loans on Wisconsin real estate, if the other participants are the state, the federal government or are insured by the federal government and licensed in Wisconsin.
The bill makes law of long-time practice, the committee said.

Prohibiting trading stamps redeemable in cash or goods. Committeemen believe trading stamps are an unnecessary drain on the economy.

Public Defense
Allow the judge to set a lesser number of demerit points for a traffic violation than is set up by the state motor vehicle department.
Establishing the office of a public defender, upon a favorable referendum vote, to represent indigent people in criminal and civil matters.
Increased unemployment compensation benefits. The state's benefits are adequate, the committee believes.

Meet Friday
Prohibiting manufacture and sale of cheese unless it is made with pasteurized milk or milk products.
Increasing indebtedness on real estate mortgages to original amount after some time has been paid, with the mortgage continuing to secure the indebtedness.

New London — A polio immunization clinic for seventh and eighth grade and high school students will be held at 9:30 a. m. Monday at Washington High school, according to Miss Georgia Schantz, city nurse.

Inoculations will be given to about 300 students who have returned statements signed by their parents. The will be free.

second clinic will be May 11. Miss Schantz reported that the junior and senior high school groups were selected to take part in the polio demonstration program as a result of a survey which indicated that this age group has less polio immunization than the younger children.

The program was recommended by Dr. F. J. Pfeiffer, city health officer. It will be sponsored by the National Polio Foundation. The inoculations will be free.

Recreation Requests

The recreation department was given permission to use Teulian park for the 9-week summer playground program which starts June 15. Director Elmer W. Grover said the playground is being moved from Richmond school because of construction of an addition.

Play equipment, on order but unrecieved, is scheduled to be installed at Jones park this spring, the board reported.

Wednesday night park dances at Pierce park pavilion, from June 3 to Aug. 26 and under supervision of Sylvester W. Esler, also were approved. A $25 a night rental charge will be made.

Dates for the Appleton Junior Chamber of Commerce July 4 celebration at Pierce park were confirmed.

Rural Youth Day The South Side Athletic club annual fund-raising picnic is scheduled June 19, 20 and 21 at Teulian park.

All fund-raisers are required to file statements of incomes and expenses when they use city streets or land, a policy which Mayor Mitchell reported to the park board last month has been adopted by the council.

Use of Erb park for its annual Rural Youth Day on May 9 also was granted the Jaycees.

The board acknowledged City Clerk Broehm's letter calling attention to the council's liability insurance policy for organizations using city property. It requires the organizations to buy policies providing $100,000, $300,000 and $1,000,000 bodily injury and property damage coverage to hold the city free of liability.

Farm Groups Back Probe of Dairy Industry

Bill Would Set Up Unit to Investigate Alleged Price Fixing

Madison — Several large agriculture organizations Wednesday threw their support behind a proposal to investigate alleged price fixing in Wisconsin's dairy industry.

The bill, which was given a hearing before the senate agriculture committee, calls for the legislative council to set up an investigation committee of two senators, three assemblymen, and seven dairy industry representatives.

A spokesman for the Pure Milk Products Cooperative, Atty. George St. Peter, Fond du Lac, said there appears to be strong evidence of dairy price fixing in the state.

"Marketing margins have increased beyond all reasonable limits at a time when farm prices for milk have been going toward lower levels," he said.

Price fixing, secret discounts, collusive bidding can't be determined without full knowledge of what is now secret information in the hands of manufacturers and persons in the distribution field," St. Peter said.

Several cases in Wisconsin, he said, appear to involve price fixing, collusion and elements of conspiracy.

The Wisconsin Farmers Union and Wisconsin Association of Cooperatives also pleaded for passage of the bill.

Safety Council Plans Campaign

Fond du Lac — Directors of the Wisconsin Council of Safety agreed Wednesday on plans for a 2-month membership campaign to increase the council's activities, particularly in traffic safety work.

Among those attending were Henry Jobelius, Appleton wire works; Arnold Long, Bay West Paper company, Green Bay; Les Forde, Giddings and Lewis Tool company, Kaukauna; Howard Aderhold, Marathone corporation, Menasha; John Paulus, Morgan company, Oshkosh; and Robert Olen, FWD corporation, Clintonville.

The board voted to back a bill before the legislature to provide funds to high schools for behind-the-wheel driver training through an increase in driver license fees.

Former President Says Nixon Would be 'Easiest to Defeat'

Los Angeles — Former President Truman says he's puzzled why Vice President Nixon seems to have dropped out of the news recently, but: "I hope they (the Republicans) don't bury him until after the next election. He'll be the easiest to lick."

The 74-year-old former chief executive declined at a luncheon meeting Tuesday to indicate whom he will back as the Democratic nominee in 1960, but, he said:

"The man who will be nominated will not divide the country by race, religion or foreign policy. We'll need leadership and we must be sure that the affairs of the world are in the hands of an

Outagamie Democrats Have High Hopes for Success in County

BY DAVID APKER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Outagamie Democrats are optimistic about their party's future in the county, but their optimism is tempered by a strong dose of political realism.

It's apt to be a long time before a Democratic candidate carries the county — the Democrats Mrs. Cherkasky are the first to admit it—but last fall's election results gave the party a terrific shot in the arm and its leaders are busy preparing for 1960.

Major indication of the party's build-up has been a good-sized increase in membership, according to Chairman Mrs. William Cherkasky. The party expects to enroll 750 paid members, compared to 60 members several years ago, Mrs. Cherkasky reports.

The membership increase has not happened overnight, she notes. Last year there were 334 members and 231 were on the rolls in 1956.

"We're finding many people who formerly were content to go to the polls and vote Democratic now are willing to become active party workers," Mrs. Cherkasky said.

The party also is trying to build a strong organization on the precinct level, she noted.

Executive who knows what he's doing and where he's going world are in the hands of an

Build or Consolidate?

Red Star School Fate Decision Postponed

Red Star school district in town probably would raise our taxes to 12 or 13 mills," Johnson said. "But if we build, we'd have to spend at least $10,000 a year for teachers and maintenance, plus the fore deciding what to do with its 1-room school."

Committees were appointed to investigate consolidation and building possibilities. He said the most the district can borrow under present statutes is $60,000, based on an assessment of $1.5 million. He is certain building would be more expensive in school, built on part of the long run part of the Red Star district.

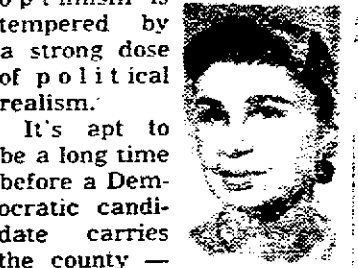

Problem Worsens But he emphasized, "We get worse." Orville Johann, child will get the most for every dollar we spend."

The district now pays $375 tuition for each of the 16 children in the district, he said. "Figuring 40 per cent will attend parochial schools, we are also paid by the district. If the district consolidated with the city, families would have to supply their own transportation," Johnson said. "That would mean an extra car for some of us," someone commented.

"You can arrange car pools like we do now," said Johann, who sends his children to parochial school.

But Orville, "answered Robert Marsh, "you've got a carload, and so do I."

The school problem will be discussed again Wednesday, May 6, when the committees will report to the district.

Although there's no election for another year, Outagamie county political parties are marshaling their forces for the coming campaign. After their election victory in the state last fall, the Democrats are optimistic. Their prospects are dealt with in the following story. Republican fortunes will be discussed in a second story.

Following advice from the state leadership, Outagamie Democrats are busy recruiting precinct captains and committeemen.

How successful the Democrats are in getting candidates to run for county office will be a good indication of the party's strength, Mrs. Cherkasky believes.

Trying to find enough local candidates to fill the ballot has been a major job for the Democrats in recent years. They even tried running classified ads last fall. Last year they managed to find candidates for all but two county offices (one of them district attorney) and will now concentrate their efforts on getting strong candidates, not just names to fill the ballot.

"We don't expect as much trouble as in the past," Mrs. Cherkasky asserted.

Candidate Problem In most county's the district attorney's office is a sought-after political plum. In Outagamie county the Democrats usually have had trouble finding any candidate for the job, much less a winning one.

Mrs. Cherkasky thinks the district attorney problem will continue until the job pays enough to make it appealing to more lawyers.

Organized labor represents an unknown factor in the Democrats' future plans. The close alliance between the party and organized labor so often found in large metropolitan areas doesn't exist here. The observer gets a picture of the two groups heading toward similar goals, but certainly not hand-in-hand.

Albert Kobussen, newly-elected president of the Appleton Federation of Labor Unions, is former chairman of the Outagamie Democratic organization. He quit the party or- ganization early in 1956 and hasn't attended a meeting since. Kobussen has ambitious plans for a political action program by the labor group but says he doesn't want to tie up with a particular party.

The labor organization should back candidates on the basis of what they stand for, not their political party. Kobussen says. It's fairly certain, from previous experience, whatever political action the labor group takes probably will be directed mainly in favor of the Democrats.

Prof. William H. Riker of Lawrence college, vice chairman of the party, thinks Outagamie county doesn't lend itself to effective political action by organized labor.

It's hard to prove the existence of a so-called "labor" vote, Riker said. He feels the party must apply itself to a political education program.

More Members He points to rising membership totals as an indication of a slowly-rising Democratic tide, but, like Mrs. Cherkasky, he doesn't think his party is going to sweep the county in the immediate future.

How many people vote Democratic right now isn't as important as the number of people who are willing to take an active part in party work, Riker asserts. The more people who are willing to work as party members, the better the organization's vote - getting ability will be, he says.

"We've found many more people are willing to claim the Democratic label now than in the past," Riker said. He feels the party can make its greatest strides by awakening what he calls "apathetic liberals" and appealing to liberally-inclined independents.

Conservationist Interests Upheld In Trout Stream Diversion Fight

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison—Recreational water interests scored a considerable and unexpected victory in the state senate Wednesday when members of the legislature's upper house approved a bill that would freeze diversion of water from streams for agricultural irrigation at the present level.

Some more adamant trout fishing groups, which have requested the elimination of all such irrigation practices, may not be enthusiastic about the compromise worked out by Sen. Reuben LaFave, Oconto.

But the farm lobbyists frowns during the vote yesterday showed clearly that they regarded the action as a reverse of their campaign.

Farmers Ask Renewal The Wisconsin Farm bureau federation and other farm spokesmen had demanded a renewal of the act, about to expire, that permitted the Public Service commission to grant permits to riparian owners to divert surplus stream water for irrigation.

using the water also on lands next to stream-side parcels.

The LaFave substitute bill now on its way to the state assembly would prohibit granting any new permit—except those previously issued—affecting any stream classified by the conservation commission as a trout stream.

Annual Review It would also require the two commissions to review annually all diversion permits granted since August 1, 1957, and would require the Public Service Commission to revoke any permit involving a trout stream when asked to do so by the conservation commission.

The latter provision makes many of the existing irrigation permits potentially worthless. Moreover, potato farmers and others preparing for early planting in a few weeks won't know what their irrigation rights may be because the existing law is expiring and the assembly may not have acted on the new legislation.

As described by the governor today, it would have a 40 for sports, along with land-bay beds, eight maximum sediments can congregate between corridors will sharply reduce and an operating room.

Difficult to Maintain The present hospital is in the original main building "which is a fire hazard and today, banishes home rooms. Instead there will be informal libraries in the school's four "academic centers" planned for student leisure time.

The campus high school, planned for 850 to 1,200 students, will teach related subjects in each academic center.

One will house language courses, including English. In another, social studies will be taught. A third will concentrate on mathematics and other sciences. The fourth will concentrate the studies in the arts. Each will have three instruction rooms. In the social studies center, a lecture hall for 150 students will be balanced by seven discussion rooms for groups of 12, and smaller individual conference areas.

Rome —(P)—Cmdr. Mario de Bernardi, once holder of the world's speed record for airplanes, died Wednesday after landing his plane on a Rome airfield.

De Bernardi, a pilot since World war I, was 65. He had taken up his small plane and was doing acrobatics when he apparently suffered an attack.

De Bernardi managed to land his plane, but airfield attendants found him slumped over the controls. He died en route to a hospital.

De Bernardi was the leader of the Italian squad that won the Schneider cup races of 1926. In 1927 he set a world speed record of 551 kilometers (342.39 miles) an hour.

Ex-Congressman Erased From 'Missing' List

St. Cloud, Minn.—(P)—A report that Usher Burdick, 80, former North Dakota congressman, might be missing was erased Tuesday night when the touring rancher was recognized here by a salesman acquaintance.

Wes Wahlin, 41, St. Cloud, said he saw Burdick as their cars halted for a stop sign and that Burdick joined him shortly afterward for a cup of coffee before continuing his long drive from Washington.

Burdick told the salesman that he had lost some horses from his Williston, N.D., ranch and was returning there to try to identify some that had been found.

Mrs. Burdick, 31-year-old wife of the former representative, had told Washington authorities she found him missing upon returning from church Sunday. She said he had mentioned going to Williston on business and wanted her to accompany him. But she said she couldn't on such short notice.

Wahlin said he telephoned Mrs. Burdick at the former congressman's request, to tell her that Burdick was fine and had been taking his medicine. He suffers from diabetes. She was surprised he had driven such a long distance since Sunday.

Dennis Crosby Charged in Paternity Suit

Los Angeles — A tall, brown-haired divorcee is demanding that Dennis Crosby pay $460.25 a month for support of her baby daughter. She says he is the child's father.

The 25-year-old son of singer Bing Crosby was named defendant Wednesday in a paternity and child-support suit filed by Mrs. Marilyn Scott, 27, a former telephone operator. Mrs. Scott said she does not have enough money to support the baby and Dennis "has failed and refused to provide sufficient means of support."

Young Crosby, now a Hollywood disc jockey, said he was not prepared to discuss the suit. He did say, however, that he has never admitted fathering the child. The girl was born 17 months ago.

Dennis married Las Vegas showgirl Pat Sheehan last year and they since have had a child.

The board nominating committee was headed by Barlow.

Foxes Open Ticket, Button Sales Drive

Score 5-2 Win Over Missoula '9'

A second straight exhibition victory and the official opening of 1959 ticket sales share the Fox Cities Foxes spotlight today.

The Foxes whipped Missoula of the Class C Pioneer league), 5-2, Wednesday at Fernandina Beach, Fla., for their second win in as many starts. Pitching three innings apiece for the Foxes were Bert Guenther, Joe Snyder and Jim Shrode. Guenther was especially sharp, Manager Jack McKeon reports.

Pascual Arrives

Catcher Wayne Leneave led the Foxes' attack with a triple and a single. Outfielder Benie Sinquefeld chipped in with a double.

Third baseman Carlos "Potato" Pascual arrived belatedly in camp Wednesday. Pascual will be the defending Three-I league batting champion this season.

The first stage in the pre-season ticket campaign is the placing on sale of Booster buttons for the May 5 home opener against Lincoln, Neb. They are being sold for $1 apiece—the same price as prevailed last year. The club hopes to sell 5,000 buttons (each good for first-game admission) in order to get off to a rousing attendance start. In 1958, the Foxes didn't miss the 5,000 mark by much.

Buttons will be on sale at sport shops, hardware stores, restaurants, taverns and other places of business throughout the Fox Cities.

Prices the Same

Season tickets and 10-ticket books also will be distributed throughout the area today and Friday, according to Business Manager Bob Willis. Sale locations will be announced in detail shortly.

Ticket prices remain the same as last year: $55 for a season reserved seat; $40 for a season grandstand seat; $30 for a season bleacher seat; $7.50 for a book of 10 grandstand seats; $5 for a book of 10 bleacher seats; and for individual games, the admissions are 90 cents, adult grandstand; 65 cents, adult bleacher; 35 cents, student; and 25 cents, for children under 13.

The Foxes are seeking volunteer workers to aid in a big ticket and button drive to start soon, Willis reports.

Tickets for the April 26 banquet (featuring speaker Vernon Gomez) are moving fast, directors report.

Ray McClone, Foxes' president, flew from the training camp to Washington with Senator officials to attend today's American league opener. He will return home after the game.

Phils May Send Conley South for 2-Week Workout

Philadelphia — Gene Conley, the Philadelphia Phillies basketball-playing pitcher, may be sent south for two weeks of conditioning when he reports to the club.

Conley, still with the Boston Celtics, reportedly is in good physical condition. The former Milwaukee pitcher could report to his new club Friday if the Celtics win the National Basketball association championship tonight with a fourth triumph over the Minneapolis Lakers.

Manager Eddie Sawyer said he thought the warmer weather probably would help Conley get into shape faster. "After about two weeks, I'll use him in long relief a couple of times before starting him," Sawyer said.

Fox Cities Foxes Directors Art Benson, left, and Frank Briske examine display cards bearing Fox Cities Foxes Booster buttons. The cards will be placed in business places throughout the Fox Cities. Sale began today of the buttons which admit wearers to the Foxes' 1959 home opener.

Braves Climax Exhibition Slate With Win, Open NL Title Defense Friday

Spahn Opens at Pittsburgh; Cottier Gets 3 Hits Against LA

Jacksonville, Fla. — The Milwaukee Braves got off to a flying start Wednesday with six runs in the first inning and then continued to club Los Angeles Dodger hurlers for a 12-3 victory in their last exhibition game of the Florida series.

The triumph gave the Milwaukeeans a record of 11-15 for the spring training season. They headed for Pittsburgh after the game where they will open defense of their National league title against the Pirates Friday. Wednesday's win was Milwaukee's fifth straight.

3-Run Triple

A 3-run triple by Del Crandall was the highlight of the first inning attack. Henry Aaron came through with his seventh home run of the year in the third inning, scoring two Braves in front of him.

"Chuck" Cottier, who looks better at every start at second for Milwaukee, came through with three hits in the Braves' 11-hit attack and Juan Pizarro turned in a good pitching performance in the four innings he worked, allowing three hits and no runs.

Carlton Willey and Humberto Robinson worked in the closing innings for the Braves. Willey gave up three hits and two runs in three frames and Robinson two hits and one run in two innings.

Manager Fred Haney of the Braves indicated that he would start Bob Buhl, a right-hander who had a 5-2 record last year, in the third National league game Sunday against Pittsburgh.

Warren Spahn is scheduled to work the opener Friday, with Lew Burdette taking over the mound duties Saturday.

14 Vike Thinlies Enter Cornell College Relays

A 14-man Lawrence college contingent will compete in the annual Cornell college relays Saturday in Mt. Vernon, Ia., the first outdoor competition of the year for the Vikes.

Already set to compete at Cornell, besides Lawrence, are Beloit, Carleton, Coe, Cornell, Grinnell, and St. Olaf of the Midwest conference and Iowa State Teachers, Loras, St. Ambrose and Simpson. Several other schools are expected to enter.

In addition to the college division there will be a high school category in which 34 prep squads are already entered.

The Vikes have been working on their outdoor track for the first time this week. The track is in very good shape according to Coach Gene Davis, although there are a few spots where water still stands.

A lack of sawdust in the jumpers' pits has held down outdoor activity in those events. It has been ordered, but hasn't arrived.

The Vikes will leave for Mt. Vernon, by auto at about 1 p.

Montreal—(U)—Again the underdog, Toronto's Maple Leafs are confident of upsetting the bid of the Montreal Canadiens for an unprecedented fourth straight Stanley cup. The best-of-7 series for hockey's most prized trophy opens tonight with Montreal a 3-1 favorite.

Hardly anyone expected the Leafs to reach the final. But they sneaked into the playoffs the last night of the regular season, then beat the Boston Bruins in the semi-finals after losing the first two games.

Go After Beliveau

The Leafs will be really going after one of those great scorers if he plays tonight, Toronto coach George Imlach warned. The moment Jean Beliveau gets the puck, he said, someone will hit him—hard but clean.

Beliveau, who fired 45 goals for Montreal during the season, fractured two vertebrae in Montreal's semi-final series against Chicago.

Montreal Coach "Toe" Blake said he didn't know whether he'd use Beliveau tonight.

But veteran Maurice "Rocket" Richard, hockey's all-time greatest scorer, is ready. Injured Jan. 18, "the Rocket" has been working himself back into shape and has asked cisco. Then it's up to Port-Blake to fit him in "any little land, Ore. for a week of hole" the team has.

They'll Do It Every Time

6-Game Exhibition Schedule Takes Bays Coast-to-Coast

Green Bay — The Packers' 6-state, 6-game, coast-to-coast exhibition schedule is complete.

The non-league card is a travel agent's dream.

The Bays debut under Lombardi against the Chicago Bears in Milwaukee Saturday night, Aug. 15. That's no problem but the following weekend, Sunday, April 23, they have been working himself back into shape and has asked cisco. Then it's up to Port-Blake to fit him in "any little land, Ore. for a week of hole" the team has.

Celtics Seek Finals Sweep

Try for 22nd Straight Win Over Lakers

Minneapolis —(U)—The Boston Celtics can stretch two winning strings into a noose for the Minneapolis Lakers tonight in the National Basketball association title playoffs.

It's all over if the Celtics win again in the fourth game tonight. In the process they would:

1. Run their victory chain against Minneapolis to 22 games dating back to March, 1957.
2. Become the first NBA team to sweep the league's playoff finals with four in a row.

to prepare for the sixth state—Minnesota. The Bays play Pittsburgh in Minneapolis Sunday, Sept. 20.

Those games are just for fun — unless you happen to be playing in them yourself. Lombardi hopes to stoke up some hot competition along the non-wheel (they'll fly) trail so he can get a good look at the veterans and provide a better test for the newcomers.

After Minneapolis, the Packers step on the fast track. First respected and honorable foe will be the Bears in Green Bay Sept. 27.

Halfback Jack Losch, the Bays' top draft pick in '58, will be separated from the Air Force shortly. Stationed at Hamilton Air Force base near San Rafael, Calif., Losch is raring to return. So is tackle Jerry Hellum who has recovered completely from the shoulder separation that floored him for the season during the non-league game against the Eagles here last year. Lombardi addressed a Packer alumni meeting the other night and the alumni responded with a promise of cooperation.

Menasha's Fabian Pelky leads in the B division, top bowlers with an average of 170 or less, with an 871 aggregate. New London's Elmer Thiel and Kerton Prahk rank next with respective scores of 864 and 846.

In Class C (for those with 155 averages or less) Joe Brown, of Stevens Point, leads with 907. Menasha's George Lieschow is second with 879, with Horton's Les Tom Foley ranking third on an 865.

Orioles Post Best Exhibition Record

Many Familiar Names Will be Missing From 1st-Day Lineups

By The Associated Press
Forget about that 150-point business for the world championship in the NBA. Put the Stanley cup on ice. Switch Patterson-London to Magnolia, Ohio. Forget 'em all. pal This is the day major league baseball starts bustin' out all over.
The traditional openers, both threatened by rain, got the pennant races moving a day early in Washington and Cincinnati this afternoon.
In the American league, the Washington Senators and Baltimore Orioles were paired in the nation's capital with Vice President Richard M. Nixon in the middle. The "Veep" was to throw out the first ball as a stand-in for President Eisenhower, who is vacationing with the GOP—Grand Old Putter.
Still Burning
The expected scramble for the National league flag was to get under way with Pittsburgh's long - prostrate Pirates, still burning from last year's pennant fever, going against the darkhorse Reds.
The good-pitch, no-sock Orioles, sixth last year in the AL, went into the new season with the best exhibition record of any major league club. They capped that spring success (17-8) with a 3-0 decision over Philadelphia at Baltimore Wednesday. Rookie Jack Fisher knocked off the Phils with a 3-hitter.
Boston's Red Sox, who open at New York against the world champion Yankees Friday were second best in the spring standings, finishing with a 16-11 record when Wednesday night's exhibition with the Chicago Cubs (12-14) was rained out at Houston.
The Los Angeles Dodgers, the club that was too good to finish seventh last year but did, led National league entries in the exhibitions with a 13-10 mark although they in dropped a 12-3 decision Wednesday at the Milwaukee Braves at Jacksonville, Fla. Jim Bunning Detroit; Billy Pierce Chicago; Ned Garver, yesterday, Cincinnati's south-paw rookie Jim O'Toole, beat the Chicago White Sox, 3-1, Philadelphia; Bob Friend, with 2 hitter at Indianapolis; Pittsburgh and Warren a 5-man pitching act by the San Francisco Giants blanked Cleveland, 2-0, on three hits at Omaha; the Yankees clubbed their International league farmhands at Richmond, 10-2 and the Kansas City A's beat Dallas of the American association 6-5.
Nails Starting Job
O'Toole nailed a starting job with the Reds (15-15) after giving up a first-inning home run to Jim Landis. Dick Donovan was the loser for the White Sox (13-10), after blanking the Reds for five frames. Jack Sanford, Al Worthington, Paul Cel, Joe Shipley and Don Azari got together for the whitewash job on the would win again, and 79 cast Indians (12-17-) with Worthington the winner for San Francisco (15-13).

The Yankees (14-12) batted around in a 4-run first and breezed at Richmond. But Kansas City (12-13) needed an RBI double by Whitey Herzog in the ninth to get past Dallas.
Detroit (13-10), Washington (8-14) and Pittsburgh (15-12) called a halt to the exhibition tour Tuesday.
Ted Williams has a pain in the neck; "Red" Schoendienst is recovering from tuberculosis; Clint Courtney has a hairline fracture of the left leg; Billy Klaus has a cracked rib and Curt Simmons is set to undergo an arm operation. These and other highly publicized baseball names will be missing from opening day lineups.

Still Hobbling
Roy McMillan, recuperating from a shoulder dislocation; Mel Roach, still hobbling on a knee that underwent surgery; Gene Stephens, with a jammed right thumb; Bill Skowron, with a twisted back; Gene Baker, with a damaged knee; Billy O'Dell, with a muscle spasm in his side; George Witt, with an inflamed elbow; Frank Sullivan, with a pulled muscle; and Billy Loes, with a sore arm, may also be on the sidelines.
A check of the 1958 opening day lineups show that at least 52 of the 128 players (excluding pitchers) who started in last year's inaugurals, will either be missing or playing on other teams. This list includes such reined players as "Pee Wee" Reese and Rube Walker, and such traded players as Frank Thomas, Alvin Dark, Eddie Yost, the Chicago Cubs (12-14) was rained out at Houston.
The Los Angeles Dodgers, the club that was too good to finish seventh last year but did, led National league entries in the exhibitions with a 13-10 mark although they in dropped a 12-3 decision Wednesday at the Milwaukee Braves at Jacksonville, Fla. Jim Bunning Detroit; Billy Pierce Chicago; Ned Garver, yesterday, Cincinnati's south-paw rookie Jim O'Toole, beat the Chicago White Sox, 3-1, Philadelphia; Bob Friend, with 2 hitter at Indianapolis; Pittsburgh and Warren a 5-man pitching act by the San Francisco Giants blanked Cleveland, 2-0, on three hits at Omaha; the Yankees clubbed their International league farmhands at Richmond, 10-2 and the Kansas City A's beat Dallas of the American association 6-5.

Baseball Writers Pick Braves, Yanks to Win
New York —P— The New York Yankees and Milwaukee Braves will meet in a third straight World Series if the nation's baseball writers are correct.
Of 189 votes received by The Associated Press in the annual preseason poll of the members of the Baseball Writers Association of America 175 thought the Yanks for the whitewash job on the would win again, and 79 cast their ballot for the Braves.

Hoad Trying to Rally From 1958 Drubbing

Alexander Gym Match Part of Current Series

Lew Hoad, former world amateur tennis champion from Australia, is currently seeking to dethrone "Pancho"

Lew Hoad

Gonzales, the professional king. They'll meet in one of their series of trans - continental matches at 8 p.m., May 1 in Lawrence college's Alexander gym under sponsorship of the Neenah Racquet club. Also appearing will be Ashley Cooper and Mal Anderson, two other Aussies who were the No. 1 and 2 ranking amateurs before they turned pro in 1958.

Nobody listed the Yanks lower than third. Second-place Detroit was far behind New York with only five firsts. Chicago had seven firsts but not enough points to escape third. San Francisco drew almost as many first-place votes as Milwaukee with a total of 65.

51-36 Trouncing
Hoad took a 51-36 drubbing from Gonzales in their tour last year but at one time the Aussie had an 18-9 lead and it looked as if the reign of the great Pancho was coming to an end. Gonzales stormed back with the greatest tennis of his career, while the physical condition of Hoad wore down.

He is back in top condition now.
Won All Meets
As an amateur he won all the major tournaments except the United States singles. He won at Wimbledon in 1956 and 57, and took the French title Australian crown and tournaments in Egypt, Italy and New South Wales.

In 1956 Hoad came within one match of being the first player since Don Budge to win the four major championships in a single season. After winning the Australian singles and doubles (with Ken Rosewall), French singles, Wimbledon singles and doubles (with Rosewall) in spite of a back injury, he came within an eyelash of winning the United States singles crown. He lost to Rosewall.

Turned Pro
He turned professional in 1957 for a guarantee of $125,000 for two years of play.

Tickets for the May 1 watch may be ordered through: Pro Tennis, Box 590, Neenah and are on sale at Pond's Sport Shop Appleton, Hodge Drugs, Neenah; Norton Drugs, Neenah; Joe's Sport Shop, Oshkosh; Bertrand's, Green Bay. Simpson's Indian Room and Waupaca. All seats are reserved.

m. Friday and will spend Friday night in Cedar Rapids. They will return to Appleton after the meet Saturday night.

Lawrence entrants include: Shot Put, Gil Sutherland; pole vault, "Chuck" Knoke; javelin, Carl Schwendler; broad jump Gary Scovel; discus, Mike Gross and Schwendler. 120-yard high hurdles, Joel Blahnik and Scovel, mile run, Tad Pinkerton.

Relay entrants are: sprint medley relay (440, 220, 220 and 880), John Ross, Dave Mulford and two of these five — Mike Uweiling, Jim Schulze, Jim Leatham, Blahnik and Scovel.

440-Yard Relay, four of these — Blahnik, Uweiling, Ross, Schulze, Leatham and Scovel. 2-Mile Relay, Pinkerton, Berganum, Traver and Mulford. 880-Yard Relay, four of these — Ross, Blahnik, Uweiling, Schulze, Leatham and Scovel. Mile relay—Ross, Traver, Mulford and Scovel (changes possible).

Mulford, Pinkerton and Sutherland have been outstanding in early workouts and look as if they may be in for big seasons. Pinkerton's 4 2/3 state AAU meet record run last Saturday was just four-tenths of a second off his own school mark of 4 2/3.

The squad is in good condition although some of the Vikes are nursing muscles, which became sore from working on the boards. Running on the spongy Vike outdoor track is expected to take care of some of that.

AHS Netters Open Tuesday Against Jays

36 Candidates Vie for Berths; 3 Lettermen Back

Three lettermen and a good transfer prospect head the 36-player Appleton High school tennis team, which is preparing for Tuesday's season opener.

The Terrors launch their dual season here Tuesday afternoon against Menasha. The Bluejay match is one of at least 10 duals slated for AHS prior to the Fox River Valley conference meet May 23 at Manitowoc.

The returning lettermen (all seniors) are captain Marty Semmelhack, who alternated at Nos. 4 and 5 last year, and Tom Baurain and Tom Lemke, both of whom ranked in the Terror's top 10.

3 Full-Size Drills
The transfer letterman is junior Dick Pearson, who placed second with his partner in the state doubles last year as a representative of Milwaukee. Wisconsin.

The Terrors, in their second season under Coach Ken Sager, have had only three days of full-scale outdoor drills to date. The lineup for the opener has not been set. Sager notes that the team spirit is good. Bob Kohls is the assistant coach.

Sager is optimistic that the team can "grow" and improve on its 7-6 dual record and fifth place conference finish of 1958.

At present the squad is larger than last year's by six players.

Squad members other than those already mentioned are seniors Rick Murphy, Dick Roemer, Van Schultz, Bob Spector, Mike Towlesley, and Don Meyer, juniors Jim Besaw, Joe Blazek, John Cover, Clyde Culbertson, Duane Hanson, Jon Keckonen, Dennis Maier, Bob Recker, Jr., Dave Ridgely and Terry Schroeder; and sophomores "Chuck" Bernard, Bob Black, Jim Brunette, Stan Chmel, Bob DeVos, Gerald Emerich, Ralph Hayden, Harold Meiers, Miles Meidam, Dave Schroeder, Scott Miller, Dennis Mueller, Jim Ramoker, Pete Reyerson, Don Schroeder and Carl Voss.

The schedule:
April 14—Menasha.
April 16—at Green Bay East.
April 21—at Green Bay West.
April 27—Mar to Loc.
April 28—Neenah.
May 5—Green Bay West.
May 12—at Neenah.
May 14—Green Bay East.
May 18—at Ford ou Lac.
May 21—at Menasha.
May 23—FRVC at Manitowoc.

Playground Softball Entries Due Friday

The Appleton Recreation department reminded teams today that entries are due Friday for fourth, fifth sixth seventh, eighth grade and girls' playground softball teams.

Play will start about April 20, weather permitting.

New TV Pact Signed for Title Match

Getting London A Visa Is Final Problem

New York —P—After all the squabbling over a site and the TV contract, only one technicality remains to be solved for the Floyd Patterson - Brian London heavyweight championship fight at Indianapolis May 1.

It's the small matter of getting Brian into the country from England.

Compared with the fuss over setting up the fight in the first place and then switching it from Las Vegas, Nev., to Indianapolis, the matter of getting London a visa seems no more than overlooked formality.

The American consul general in London said all that is needed is for a petition to be filed with immigration authorities by the promoters stating that Brian is needed.
The important business of signing a new TV contract was cleaned up Wednesday, although promoter Cecil Rhodes, Jr., declined to reveal what the television network (NBC) agreed to pay.

McHale Says Rainy Weather Made Braves Appear Complacent

Believes Conditions Set Club Week Behind Schedule

Milwaukee — General Manager John McHale said Wednesday the Milwaukee Braves—the National league champions trying for their third pennant in a row—definitely coasted along during spring training.

McHale blamed it on the weather.

"When you have a week of rain, everyone looks sort of complacent," McHale said. "We're finally starting to come around. But the rainy weather set us back a little farther than most clubs." Milwaukee finished its spring season exhibition game schedule Wednesday with a 12-3 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers. The triumph left them with an 11-15 record, close to the bottom of the NL exhibition standings.

It was only a few weeks ago that Manager Fred Haney sewed the complacency label on his players and told them it was time to start hustling. "I don't think it's asking too much," Haney said then, "to have the players at least look like they're trying to win."

Irrked Players Haney's statement irked the players and brought sharp denials.

"There's no doubt about it, though," McHale admitted. "We definitely were coasting."

McHale explained, however, that the Braves did not have a heavy schedule for their "B" team and were unable to give their young pitchers enough work. And he added that the same thing held true during the regular exhibition season.

"Then, too, the pitchers on our club are older and more established," McHale said. "and perhaps don't work as much as the younger ones."

"Anyway, I'd guess that we missed from six to seven days of work. Ordinarily, if you'd skip two or three days because of rain, that's a lot," he added.

McHale said the Braves are in good shape physically but the hitting hasn't met expectations. He blamed the weather again, saying they didn't receive the normal amount of batting practice.

Loaded With Power McHale said, too, that even with the hitting not up to par the Braves are loaded with power from the second right on down through the seventh in batting power.

"With Eddie Mathews, Henry Aaron, Wes Covington, Joe Adcock or Frank Torre and Del Crandall, we've got some pretty good bats there," McHale said.

There was only one thing McHale held back on—an outright prediction Milwaukee would win the pennant.

"I prefer to wait another 30 days and see all the clubs play in championship competition," he said. "One thing is sure, it's going to be tougher this year."

The Braves open the season against the Pittsburgh Pirates Friday.

Billy Loes Back With Baltimore

Baltimore — Billy Loes again is an Oriole and facing Baltimore baseball brass is the problem of what to do with the unpredictable pitcher.

"If the guy can pitch, and he certainly looked like he could when he left us, we might as well use him in relief and see how much help we can get out of him," said Manager Paul Richards.

"After this I doubt if we could trade him anyway. Who would want him?"

The Orioles announced Wednesday they had voided the trade that sent Loes to the Washington Senators for pitcher Vito Valentineti last week.

Loes reported to the Senators complaining of a sore arm. It was later diagnosed by Dr. George A. Resta, Washington team physician, as "an incomplete rupture of the right shoulder muscle."

Oriole General Manager Lee MacPhail said it was decided to cancel the deal voluntarily.

Golf Writer, 83, Dies After Playing 9 Holes

Campbell Says He Erred in Discussing NHL Officiating

Montreal — National Hockey League President Clarence Campbell says "my mistake was in talking at all." "I am sorry for having participated in or contributed to this mess." The "mess" is the resignation of senior NHL referee made an error in judgment on Red Storey, who claims a late third-period play in Campbell let him down by Chicago. "Then came the after-game chat with Westwick. That was he thought Storey 'froze' in my mistake. I feel I was a victim of bad faith that has Montreal - Chicago semi-final precipitated a most unfortunate mess." In the Journal, Westwick laithorns too well." Campbell wrote that he had not said in an interview with Vern

Northern Wisconsin Sport Show Starts Wednesday in Arena

Green Bay — With the deadline for Northern Wisconsin Sport show contest entries approaching, thousands of slogan ideas and names for the two cub bears are pouring in.

Midnight, Saturday, is the deadline for postmarks on all entries. The final judging will begin the following day and the names of the winners will be announced from the stage on Sunday, April 19, during the final performance. The sport show starts Wednesday.

Advance tickets will only be on sale at a limited number of outlets from April 12 through opening day, and the contest portion of the tickets will be removed.

Each adult and children's advance sale ticket is also the official entry blank telling purchasers exactly how to enter each contest and where to mail contest entries. Advance tickets are on sale at retail outlets in a 20-county area.

Adult Contest

The adult contest requires the entrant to write a slogan in ten words or less about the Northern Wisconsin Sport show to be held at the Brown County Memorial arena. The person who's slogan is judged the best will receive a 16-foot boat; a 40 h.p. motor and a boat trailer.

The children are asked to name the two black bear cubs who will be the Sport show mascots. A classy card with 2-cycle engine and deluxe upholstery will go to the winner.

A stage tank show consisting of eight sport show acts will be presented each evening at 8 p.m. and Saturday and Sunday at 2:30 and 8 p.m. More than a hundred exhibits and special features will round out the 5-day show.

Report Chou Will Get Red China's Top Job

Belgrade, Yugoslavia — Premier Chou En-lai may be chosen Mao Tse-tung's successor as chief executive of red China, the official Yugoslavia news agency, Tanjug, reported from Peiping today. Mao, 65, stepped down as red China's chairman — the equivalent of president — last December, but announced he would retain the more powerful job of communist party boss.

Chisox May Cut DuFour, Moss

Detroit — The Chicago White Sox have two cuts to make before their opener with Detroit Friday and pitcher Bill DuFour and catcher Les Moss may be the victims.

DuFour reportedly has been promised to Indianapolis of the American association. Moss is considered expendable because the Sox have Earl Battey and John Romano to back up Sherm Lollar.

If Moss remains on the roster, Ron Jackson, Don Mueller or perhaps a rookie pitcher are other possibilities for the ax.

Eddie Perkins Tops Armstead

Captures Split Verdict in Dull Lightweight Bout

Chicago — Eddie Perkins of Chicago won a split 10-round decision from Los Angeles' Paulie Armstead Wednesday night in a spiritless bout of lightweights.

Usually the little guys go at it nail and tong, but these 22-year-olds couldn't seem to get going at all.

They banged away before a TV audience and a cluster of 981 Chicago stadium customers with inaccurate shots and frequent clinches.

There were no approaches to a knockdown.

Between Clinches

It was a question of which fighter could slip in the cleaner punches between clinches, and Perkins was given the benefit. Referee Walter Brightmore favored him 48-45 under the 5-point must system.

Judge E. Allen Finkel liked him 47-46, same as the Associated Press. But Judge Harold Marovitz went for Armstead 48-47.

Perkins gained his fourteenth triumph against five defeats.

Supreme Court Upholds Coed Segregation

Decision Raises Question, "Are Women People?"

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington — Segregation of men or women in schools controlled by state authority has just been upheld, in effect, by the Supreme Court of the United States.

Two white women were denied enrollment in an all-male state college in Texas. Lawrence

This ruling would not have occasioned any surprise five years ago, because the states previously were allowed to use their own discretion in deciding what pupils should be admitted to public educational institutions.

In view of the fact that the Supreme Court in 1954 said that discrimination on account of race or color could produce a feeling of inferiority and that mixed classes are beneficial from an educational standpoint, the query now is whether women haven't just as much right to use that argument with respect to discrimination against them because of sex. In fact, in appealing the current case of the Supreme Court, the two women cited the 1954 decision and argued that a woman is a person just as much as is a Negro.

14th Amendment

They pointed out that the 14th amendment says "all persons born or naturalized in the United States" are citizens. "Are women people?" was the heading of a weekly column by the late Alice Duer

Miller, famous novelist, more than 40 years ago in what was then the New York Tribune. The question was finally answered by the 1920 adoption of the 19th amendment to the constitution of the United States, which declares:

"The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of sex."

Treated Separately

Many of us true liberals—or progressives, as we were known in those days—had not thought an amendment was necessary because the 14th amendment had already forbidden the states to deny the equal protection of the laws and had said the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States cannot be abridged by any state. Certainly women were entitled to be classified as citizens.

But, since neither voting nor sex nor color nor education was mentioned in the 14th amendment, the Supreme Court of the United States by its decisions indicated that these subjects would have to be treated separately in other amendments.

In fact, the 15th amendment—which declares that voting rights shall not be denied or abridged on account of race or color—was adopted a year later than the 14th because it was desired by congress to make clear that voting rights, usually prescribed by the states, should not be abridged because of race or color.

Dashes Hopes Again

So, inasmuch as there was no tendency in those days to rely on the Supreme court to amend the constitution to give women equal protection of the laws in respect to voting rights, even though they are citizens, many of us enthusiastically supported the adoption of the 19th amendment that would at last — as we thought — put women on a basis of equality with men.

But the Supreme court this week has dashed our hopes once more. Evidently, because discrimination in educational institutions of a public character by reason of sex was not mentioned in the 14th amendment, it will be necessary to seek a new amendment that will forbid the exclusion of any female citizen from such schools.

It is the principle of the thing which is bothersome. Many women prefer to go to separate schools. Some believe their opportunities for an education are much better when what they consider the lower intelligence quotient of the male sex is not present in the classroom.

But even those women who may feel that way about their superiority will not relish any court ruling which says, in effect, that they can be barred by law from associating in the schoolroom with members of the opposite sex. They have never believed that any physical characteristic should diminish their rights as citizens.

There may be some men, too, who will object to the Court of the United States by discrimination and who would prefer desegregation of the sexes. But the Supreme court has spoken, and its decisions and rulings must be obeyed, for they are the law of the land.

So the alternative is to abide by the ruling and try for a constitutional amendment which will give women the equality they had long thought they already possessed as citizens. But they must be careful not to agitate too vigorously, lest they be charged with "massive resistance."

Peanuts Come Into Their Own as All-Round Food

BY LILLIAN MACKESY
Post-Crescent Food Editor

Peanuts, so long a perennial favorite at baseball games and the circus, have come into their own as an important all-round food.

In fact, congress has decreed that the honorable goober is one of the nation's six basic farm commodities.

From the homemaker's viewpoint, peanuts can offer unusual bonuses in food values in a wide range of recipes. One of the reasons is that the peanut has a natural affinity for so many other foods.

Take golden fried southern chicken as a for instance. Everyone knows that if there is any one place in the country where folks know good fried chicken, it is down in Georgia. They raise a heap of fryers down that way and they also raise a lot of peanuts.

Here's how they combine the two into a fried chicken treat that satisfies the most exacting expert. This deep south concoction has a crisp brown crust that makes the main course of the meal as delectable as the dessert.

Georgia Crust Chicken

- 1 frying chicken, cut up (2 to 3 pounds)
- 1 cup cracker meal
- 2 tablespoons chopped parsley
- 1 cup finely ground salted peanuts
- 1 egg
- 2 tablespoons milk

Combine cracker meal, ground peanuts, salt, pepper and parsley. Mix egg and milk, whipping into batter. Dip cut chicken first in batter, then in peanut-crumbs mixture, making sure the chicken is coated evenly and completely.

Fry in hot peanut oil in heavy frying pan until each piece is golden brown and tender. Drain on paper towels. Serve piping hot with gravy made from pan drippings.

To Make Gravy

Drain fat from skillet, reserving two tablespoons for use. Leave any brown pieces of peanut cracker crust that may have fallen off the chicken in the skillet. Measure two tablespoons flour and blend well with two tablespoons of reserved fat in the skillet; then all at once, add one cup of water. Stir constantly until gravy is of proper consistency. Season to taste and serve over fried chicken with hot biscuits.

Peanut oil is one of the best cooking oils on the market. Its high smoking point of 450 degrees makes it ideal for frying chicken, fish, doughnuts, potatoes and other foods. For salad dressings, peanut oil is an excellent all-

Peanut Dressing

- 1 cup peanut oil
- 1 cup wine vinegar
- 1 teaspoon celery seed
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon paprika
- 1 teaspoon mustard
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- few drops onion juice
- 1 teaspoon salad herbs

Mix the nine ingredients and that's all there is to it. Keep in a covered jar in the refrigerator and shake well before using. The recipe makes one cup of dressing and it may be used for tossed green salads with finely chopped peanuts sprinkled over the top of the green.

Another simple but good

Appletonian Celebrates 90th Birthday

Miss Heloise Northrop, who resides with her sister, Mrs. Charles Hanssen, 802 E. John street, celebrated her 90th birthday on Friday.

She was born April 3, 1869, in Charleston, S. C., and remembers her early years on a southern plantation and in Denver, Colo.

Miss Northrop studied to be a private in New York city, was to have debuted with the Metropolitan Ballet, but returned to her home. She became a home teacher and teacher when she moved to Pompano, Fla. She has a son, a daughter and a grandchild in Los Angeles, Calif. Miss Northrop has been married to Appleton about six years ago.

Baked Stuffed Fish

Select white flounder for fillets. Partially defrost fillets. Rub cavity with salt. Stuff and sew edges together or fasten with toothpicks. Place on greased platter or baking pan and brush with melted butter. Bake in hot 450-degree oven 30 to 40 minutes until well browned. Garnish with quartered lemon and parsley.

atin in hot water. Refrigerate when partially set, about the consistency of beaten egg white, whip until fluffy. Then whip milk until stiff, add dash of salt and fold in the gelatin. Add mashed banana, lemon juice and powdered sugar. Pour into chilled pie shell and refrigerate until firm. Before serving, sprinkle top of pie with crushed peanut brittle. If whipping cream is used instead of evaporated milk, do not add salt.

Fudge Pie Filling

- 6 ounce package semi-sweet chocolate pieces
- 1 1/2 cups graham cracker crumbs
- 14 ounce can condensed milk
- 1 cup chopped peanuts
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup milk
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Melt chocolate in top of double boiler; combine with remaining ingredients. Spread mixture into chilled crumb crust. Bake in moderately hot oven, 375 degrees for 30 minutes.

Fluffy Banana-Lemon chiffon filling in a peanut butter crumb crust makes a pie to tackle the taste buds of an epicure. Thus Peanut-Banana Pie is an especially good choice for party desserts. . . it teams well with coffee or tea. It also may be made in quantity because it keeps fine in the refrigerator for serving another day.

Nut Bread Adapts to New Recipe

Remember how the family raved about the loaf of nut bread grandma made for special occasions?

The fresh-baked aroma of the bread, hot from the oven, is something most of us can recall with pleasure.

Here's a new fashioned loaf of nut bread that lives up to its old-fashioned reputation. Called Peanut-Applesauce Bread, it's ideal to serve with hot tea—thin sliced and spread with butter—or made into party-size sandwiches with cream cheese or marmalade as a filling.

Peanut Applesauce Bread also doubles as a dessert when topped with a dollop of whipped cream and served on a small plate with a fork. It's fine for lunch box sandwiches, too. And it has exceptionally good keeping qualities.

After the bread is baked let it cool in the pan 10 minutes then turn out on a wire cake rack. Wrap it in waxed paper, clear plastic or foil and store in the bread box or freezer until needed. The bread packaged for the freezer will keep for several months if desired. Here's how it's made.

Peanut-Applesauce Bread

- 1 cup coarsely chopped peanuts
  - 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
  - 1 cup granulated sugar
  - 3 teaspoons baking powder
  - 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
  - 1 teaspoon allspice
  - 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
  - 1 egg
  - 1 cup canned applesauce
  - 2 tablespoons peanut oil
- Heat oven to 350 degrees. Grease loaf pan. Sift flour, sugar, baking powder, cinnamon, allspice and soda onto square of waxed paper; add chopped peanuts, mix well.
- In mixing bowl beat the egg, add applesauce and peanut oil, mix slightly and add flour-peanut mixture, stir until just blended and turn into greased pan.

Bake one hour in 350-degree oven. Remove from oven.

Let loaf cool in pan 10 minutes before turning it out onto wire rack. After cool, wrap in waxed paper and store overnight before slicing.

Makes one loaf. Slice thin with sharp knife and serve with tea, or make thicker slice and serve for dessert.

Peanut Brittle Topping

Beat one-half cup whipping cream until stiff. Fold in one cup crushed peanut brittle or one cup finely chopped choco-

Remember the Nut bread grandma made that everyone raved about? Well, here's a rival for that old-fashioned favorite. Peanut-Applesauce Bread is rich, moist, spicy and light as a featherbed. Ideal for tea, sliced and served as is or spread with cream cheese in dainty sandwiches. It makes a fine dessert, too, when served with a dollop of whipped cream on each slice.

provides other nutrients that are not furnished by cereal.

Ready-to-use cereals have some use in cookery. Bran is popular for use in muffins and other cereals for coating foods, topping casseroles and for making pie shells. Ready-to-use corn flake crumbs are good quality protein, some now available in packaged vitamins and minerals. Milk form.

Ready-to-Eat Cereals as Good As Cooked Ones

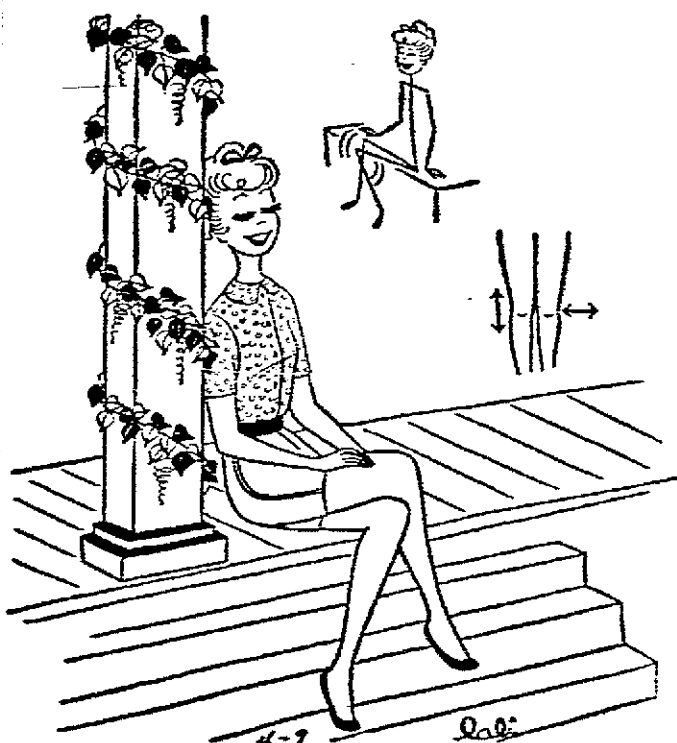

There are few households in which breakfast cereals are not used daily — practically none when there are children in the family.

It is seldom that children have to be urged to consume this type of breakfast, although they sometimes will be admonished, "Hurry up and eat your cereal or you'll be late for school."

A hot cooked cereal of oatmeal or wheat is often served for breakfast, especially on cool mornings, when it certainly does taste good. It may be dressed up with the addition of a few raisins, sliced prunes or dates.

Except for the fact that it is hot it is not superior in nutritive value to the ready-to-eat cereals. Every cereal provides good quality protein, some now available in packaged vitamins and minerals. Milk form.

A Lovelier You By Mary Sue Miller

Spot Reducer

Annoying, how flesh settles where it is most easily seen. The favorite show place at present is the knee—just where springtime shorts and short playclothes leave off.

Dislodging knee "pads" takes work and time. But results come through these spot-reducing routines:

Sit on a sturdy stool and raise knees upward, as far as possible. Quickly rotate legs, as though pedaling a bicycle, so that the knees brush and massage each other. Repeat 25 times.

Stand with feet and legs touching. Pull kneecaps upward—hold, relax and repeat 20 times. Without moving feet, twist kneecaps sideways, away from each other—hold, relax and repeat 20 times.

To speed the slimming process, remember to stand and walk with the knees slightly bent. Stiffening or locking the knees causes unnatural strains on the muscles and to cushion the shock, they develop fatty pads.

Stiff knees make your posture look stiff, too. So relax those knees and you will gain willowness—two ways.

BY EMILY POST
Dear Mrs. Post: I would very much like your opinion on the propriety of two girls and two boys, all in their early 20s, going by bus to New York City and spending a weekend there. We are all just friends and none of us sweethearts, in case that makes a difference.

Answer: Being just friends does make a difference, but even so I can hardly give unqualified approval of young men and girls going off alone to stay in the city. And yet—if the two girls go to one of the women's hotels in New York, and the men go and stay at another hotel, or best of all perhaps at a fraternity club, I doubt very much if anyone will criticize them unless their behavior at home has given gossip cause for chatter.

Proper Request
Dear Mrs. Post: We are expecting our third baby shortly and wondered if it would be proper to ask our family doctor to be the baby's godfather. We have known him many years and feel very close to him. We would love to have him above anyone else but certainly don't want to be presumptuous. Will you please give us your opinion?
Answer: If in addition to being your doctor he is also an intimate friend, there is no reason for not asking him to be your baby's godfather.

hito's empress, the first commoner ever to do so.

The crown prince and the wealthy flour miller's daughter, symbols of a more democratic and prosperous nation born out of the embers of military defeat, will become man and wife at 10:13 a.m. (8:13 p.m. EST Thursday).

Sip Sacred Wine

At that moment they will sip sacred wine from shallow, unglazed cups in the Kashi-kodokoro, the imperial Shinto shrine which houses the replica of an ancient mirror, one of the symbols of Japan's royalty.

Inside the moated, high-walled imperial palace in the center of Tokyo each piece of stone and pebble at the entrance to the Shinto holy of holies has been washed and cleaned. Special precautions have been taken to banish any offending flies or insects.

The day's ceremonies will begin at 6:20 a.m. when the crown prince's chief chamberlain and chief lady-in-waiting arrive at the Shoda home to escort Michiko to the palace in a maroon automobile.

12-Layered Kimono

At the palace the bride-to-be will begin the lengthy task of donning her wedding robes, a small mound of rustling silk. Michiko has chosen a 12-layered kimono ensemble styled on the dress of ancient court brides of the rich Heian period—794-1192 A.D.

The dress closest to her body will be of pure white silk. Above this is a wine red robe, then alternate red, purple and green figured robes, the wide sleeve lengths of each slightly shorter than the one underneath. The topmost jacket is purple, broken by white crests, and has a blue silk facing. She will also wear a black wig styled after head dress of ancient court ladies.

The prince will wear imperial yellow court robes, a black lacquered Shinto cap and bear a white scepter. Because his costume is so much simpler, he won't have to reach the palace to dress until three hours after his bride.

Prince's Tutor Invited

The simple Shinto marriage ceremony will take 15 minutes. Emperor Hirohito and Empress Nagako will not take part. In accord with tradition they will be officially told of the marriage by the young couple afterward.

One foreigner — the crown prince's former tutor, Mrs. Elizabeth Vining of Philadelphia — is among the 1972 invited guests who will stand in an enclosure just outside the shrine.

Three hours after the wedding the couple will take an open carriage for the 53 mile trip to Akihito's suburban home. A million persons are expected to jam the sides of the route.

The Next Best Thing to an invitation for Friday's imperial wedding in Tokyo is window-shopping along the Ginza. These full-sized mannequins representing Prince Akihito and his fiancée, Michiko Shoda, doll at left, clad in their nuptial garments are some of the many reminders of the royal marriage displayed in the Japanese capital's department store windows.

Board to Advertise For Squad Car Bids

Snow Removal Cost
$4,400 This Winter
At Little Chute

Little Chute — The village board authorized the police and ordinance committee to advertise for bids on a new squad car at a meeting Wednesday night.

Bids will be due at the next board session, April 21, at 8 p.m. The present squad car will be used as a trade-in.

Snow removal cost the village about $4,400 this winter, according to figures by Trustee Richard Ebben.

Labor Costs — Included in the final total are $2,726 for labor and another $1,246.50 for rental of outside equipment.

Representatives of residents living west of Madison street and between Johnson and McKinley streets asked for help in doing something about a low spot which fills with water each spring.

Richard Coenen, spokesman, said this year water was so high it came in some basement windows. The residents wish to install a catch basin on their properties and lead it into a village storm sewer. The matter was referred to the street committee for study and recommendation.

President Paul Kostka said the board would work with the residents to find a solution. He also promised to get them the necessary materials.

It was decided to lock the gates at American Legion park until the ground dries out. The street commissioner reported youngsters running on the field are digging up the baseball diamond and running grass on the football field.

Chief of Police Sylvester Vandenberg was authorized to attend the administrative school at Milwaukee April 15 and 16.

Many of our good dietary habits that go back to olden days were evolved because of necessity. For instance, the storage of root vegetables in pits where they would keep well through the cold months, the drying of apples and other fruits, the hanging of strings of onions from the rafters, and the "salting down" of meat after the animals were slaughtered, all joined in supplying nutrition for the long winter months.

Treasury Checks Every 26th Return

BY SYLVIA PORTER

You're only normal if you join millions of other Americans taxpayers in filling out your 1958 federal income tax return this week end before the April 15 dead line and you're only more normal if you wonder, "What is the chance that my return will be checked?"

Porter

There is no implication that you are trying to get away with anything. I'm simply assuming that you're an intelligent, hep taxpayer trying to maximize your deductions and minimize the tax you owe the federal government (and maybe, just maybe, you haven't ample proof to back up every penny of deduction you claim.)

Look to 1958. An excellent guide to what to expect the Internal Revenue service will do with the tax return you filed or will file before next Wednesday midnight may be found in what it did with our tax returns during 1958. Leon Gold, top tax expert, worked out the following figures from the IRS's last annual report to Treasury Sec. Anderson.

(1) Take for granted that the arithmetic on your return will be checked. It will be. Last year the treasury checked the arithmetic on 57,585,000 out of 60,793,000 indi-dual and fiduciary returns and 779,000 out of 971,000 corporation returns. It found a towering 1,908,000 had mathematical errors.

Taxpayers Err

Errors in whose favor? You guessed it—overwhelmingly, the errors were in favor of taxpayers. Of the total with mistakes, 1,247,000 were corrected by demanding the taxpayer pay an average of $88 more; only 661,000 errors were corrected by giving taxpayers an average out of $72.

Check 1 in 26

(2) The odds are that one in 26 that the return you file as an individual this year will be plucked out for a thorough audit.

About 2,336,000 individual and fiduciary returns were examined during the 1958 fiscal year. As a result of the audits, the treasury took in an extra $654 million or an average of about $280 a return in additional interest, taxes and penalties.

(3) The odds are around one in five or six that a return filed by a corporation this year will be chosen for a thorough audit.

Approximately 159,000 corporate returns were examined during the 1958 fiscal year as a result of which the treasury got an extra $636 million.

Higher Brackets

(4) The probability that your tax return will be audited will be much greater than the one-in-26 or one-in-five averages if your adjusted gross income is $25,000 or more, if you're in a trade or profession in which payment in cash is a widespread practice, if tax district, taxpayers in

Unemployment Compensation Act Opposed

Small Employers Say Soon Every Worker Will be Covered

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison—An assembly labor committee dominated by Democrats has been given a bill by an agent of the Wisconsin Restaurant association, fighting the drive of labor and larger employers for extension of the unemployment compensation act to cover all employers.

"Cover everybody," challenged Elmer Conforti of the association as he protested a bill to extend coverage from payroll initially. Their pay-employees of four or more, under existing law, to those who have three or more.

"Cover the lawyers and the doctors and the farmers and everybody who is not covered," he said, "you're afraid," he said, "not to be returned in benefits to their workers."

Conforti said the advisory committee of the industrial commission, sponsor of the bill, is "nibbling" at the law, intending to attain universal coverage after a succession of amendments.

When the state payroll tax for paying benefits to unemployed started more than 20 years ago, employers of eight or more were covered.

Receives Backing
Conforti was backed by other associations of smaller employers. Carl Zielke, of the Wisconsin Press association, an organization of rural newspapers, declared he would welcome the help of professional men as small employers in killing the bill.

The new measure would cover about 6,000 employers and about 20,000 workers.

All business groups expect that if coverage is lowered to three, future legislators would be asked for further extensions.

Covered employers pay up to three per cent of the bill to extend coverage from payroll initially. Their pay-employees of four or more, under existing law, to those who have three or more.

The men protest that they have doctors and the farmers and everybody who is not covered, "you're afraid," he said, "not to be returned in benefits to their workers."

Greg Schulte, Left, President of the Appleton Taxpayers association, talks with, from left, Arch Ely, executive director of the Public Expenditure Survey, Madison; Helm Hussner, president of Appleton Kiwanis; Henry J. Young, vice president of Hardwood Products, Neenah, and a member of the Public Expenditure Survey's special taxpayer's committee on the state budget; and Arthur R. Thiel, research analyst with the survey.

Tax Reform Needed For State, Panel Says

Schools Adequate for Growth, Member Of Public Expenditure Survey Maintains

Tax reform and more economy, not the income tax withholding plan, are needed if the state is to support the governmental structure, a panel discussion composed of three members of the Public Expenditure Survey declared Wednesday.

Speaking to the Kiwanis club was a panel made up of Henry J. Young, Neenah, member of the special taxpayer's committee on the state budget, Arthur R. Thiel, Madison survey tax analyst, and Arch Ely, executive director of the Public Expenditure Survey.

"More government than we need, financed by a tax structure unable to increase productivity as fast as government spending increases," was Ely's explanation of Wisconsin government's basic weakness.

No Population Explosion
Thiel contended there is no "population explosion" in the state and schools are built adequately to handle the average rise in population of 2 per cent per year.

Thiel noted the governor's 1-year budget of $185,500,000 compares with $170,945,000 authorized for the current year.

The governor's proposal contained no building funds, according to Thiel, who said projecting the plan for two years and adding building and other funds the statutes require would bring total spending to more than $422,000,000 for the biennium.

Outside Jobs
Young said studies of the special taxpayers committee reveal postwar growth of Wisconsin industry had resulted in more new jobs being created outside that state than inside.

No matter who is in office, Young said, "Our state financing methods differ greatly from other states. Thirty-three states use sales tax. Many have income tax. We have been unable to detect rumors of disaster since they started using a sales tax."

A broader tax structure base is needed, he maintained.

Wisconsin is the only state where more than half of total state expenditures are devoted to helping political subdivisions, said Ely.

"But while aids and shared taxes have increased in the last 10 years by 105 per cent, property taxes increased almost 100 per cent. Per capita property taxes in Wisconsin are higher than the national average and are rising faster than the national average," he said.

Organized taxpayers groups have recommended ways to balance the state budget through tax revision, Thiel how taxes are affecting business.

Bomb Threat Forces Unscheduled Landing

Paso Robles, Calif. —

A Pacific Air lines 2-engine plane chartered by Lockheed missile division, and carrying security personnel from San Francisco to Los Angeles, landed here last night for checking an anonymous bomb warning.

FBI agents and CAB authorities went over the plane thoroughly for three hours and then permitted it to proceed. The pilot received radioed instructions to land at Paso Robles after someone telephoned the San Francisco airport and said a bomb was aboard.

also are urging a workable 2-year budget to supplant Gov. Nelson's plan, described as essentially a 1-year budget, he said.

Ely said Kiwanians, as opinion-molders, "know more than the average individual through tax revision, Thiel how taxes are affecting business."
